INDUSTRIAL FUTURE OF CITY AT STAKE WHEN TAX VOTE ON ELEVATOR IS TAKEN THURSDAY

Victoria's Bid to Become Important Grain Port Finds Favor With Citizens; Big Ballot on Tax Exemption Clause Will Create Favorable Impression With Prairie Investors.

An immediate expenditure in construction of approximately $1,000,000 to pave the way for an initial payroll for between 100 to 200 men apart from all other assured development is dependent upon the vote which the citizens of Victoria will cast on the tax exemption by-law for the Panama Pacific Terminals Limited grain elevator on Thursday. This is the direct issue facing the citizens, business men of Victoria points out.

On the other hand it will be Victoria's stamp of approval or otherwise on three years of effort to establish Victoria as one of the grain ports of the Canadian Pacific Coast.

FINEST OPPORTUNITY EVER OFFERED CITY

Industrially the establishment of the grain elevator is generally admitted to be the greatest opportunity ever offered to this city and fewer propositions have been so free from criticism. It is difficult to find a dissenting voice and advocates of the grain elevator have no fears as to the result of the ballot. They are, however, appealing for a big voluntary vote for the desired tax exemption clause upon which the construction of the elevator here depends to show the prairie people who are investing their money here that Victoria has the success of the undertaking at heart.

INCREASE CITY'S SPENDING POWER

By nearly $250,000 a year Victoria's spending power will be increased by one elevator alone and it is pointed out whether other elevators are erected in Victoria depends almost entirely on the attitude of the ratepayers shown towards the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited Thursday.

NO SACRIFICE OF REVENUE

As pointed out on previous occasions Victoria makes no sacrifice of revenue in granting the tax exemption clause. The city at present derives no taxes from the grain elevator. The city at present derives no taxes from the grain elevator. The city at present derives no taxes from the grain elevator.

DIAMOND RUSH SEEN IN SOUTH AFRICA

Thousands of Johannesburg Workmen Quit Jobs and Hurry to Stake Claims

Johannesburg, Sept. 8.—Thousands of workers in this district have abandoned their jobs to take part in a diamond rush to Gerzoon Kraai, where several valuable finds have been reported. Already 3,000 claims have been staked and diamond buyers are said to have purchased stones weighing as much as twenty-eight carats each which were found only eighteen inches under the surface of the soil.

YOUTH INJURED IN RAIL SMASH DIED

Ten Golf Caddies and Motor-man Hurt in Crash in Hull, Quebec

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Ten caddies attending the amateur golf championships here were injured, one fatally and two others seriously, yesterday morning when a street car in which they were traveling on the Hull Electric Railway crashed into the rear of another car which was stalled owing to its trolley pole having jumped the wire. The ten boys had beaten their way from the Lacchute, Que., district to assist at the championship play.

Jimmy Brown, nineteen, of Lacchute, died in a hospital here soon after being admitted. Motor-man Presson of Hull may lose his left leg and Robert Macpherson and Reginald Cooper, both of Lacchute, are suffering from cuts and minor injuries. The seven other caddies, after being treated in the hospital were allowed to return to the Rivermead Golf Club and were able to take part in the games.

Kiwanians All To Work For Big Elevator Vote

The Kiwanis Club has been asked by the Chamber of Commerce to exert its influence to bring about the passage of the elevator by-law next Thursday. When the request was read to the club at today's luncheon, President Dr. Toward Miller remarked that a formal vote of support from the club was unnecessary after the masterly summary of arguments supporting adoption of the by-law, and urged every member to do his utmost to assure a large vote being registered.

ENGINEER SAVED MAN

Williamsburg, Ia., Sept. 8.—Ernest Stopler, a dairy farmer living near here, was saved from an infuriated bull by the quick wit of the engineer of a passenger train. Stopler was knocked down by the bull and gored in the side. The engineer of an approaching train, seeing Stopler's plight, slowed his train and sounded several sharp blasts on the whistle and frightened the bull from Stopler, who crawled under a fence to safety.

OPENING OF LEGISLATURE FIXED FOR NOVEMBER 2 ON ACCOUNT OF FEDERAL POLL

So as to avoid conflict between its work and the Federal election of October 29, the opening of the Fall session of the Provincial Legislature will be postponed from October 26 to November 2. This change of date was ordered by the Cabinet, to-day.

By postponing the commencement of the Fall session for a week the Government will enable members of all parties to take part in the Federal campaign in their own ridings. Many members who desire to campaign in support of Federal candidates would be prevented from participating in the wind-up of the fight if the House opened on October 26 as planned.

When the Legislature opens November 2 its work will not be affected in any way by Federal politics which are expected to hold public attention until the day of the election. While he is busy with preparations for the Fall session Mr. Oliver is being showered with congratulations for his part in the far-reaching freight victory of last week. Many of the Premier's political enemies, as well as his friends and others who have taken no part in politics, are sending letters and telegrams to him expressing their appreciation of his long rule.

NEW DIRIGIBLE IS ALL BUILT OF METAL

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Arnold Wilhelm Rathjen, a Berlin physicist, to-day expressed the belief dirigible airships of the future must be constructed entirely of metal, without the present series of enclosed gas balloons. He has invented a dirigible built entirely of light metal into which gas may be pumped directly by a new method which he has conceived.

COMMUNIST GROUPS IN GREAT BRITAIN ARE BEING CHECKED

Government is Reported to Have Ordered Arrest of Number of Agitators

Band Which Planned to Molest Princess Mary's Party Chased Away

London, Sept. 8.—Report has it the British Government has taken the offensive to check the increasing activities of Communists within its territories by ordering the arrest of agitators concerned in plots to spread propaganda among the members of the army and navy.

The action of the Home Office, which has impressed Scotland Yard into the service of rounding up the Communists, is said to follow reports received during the past several weeks that agitators had been making rapid headway in Great Britain, carrying on propaganda in army centres, particularly at Aldershot.

SIR R. SQUIRES TO APPEAR IN COURT

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 8.—The case of Sir Richard Squires, former Premier of Newfoundland, charged in court here Saturday with having failed to make returns under oath of his total income tax from March 1919 to April 1925, is to come up September 17.

RACE FOR LIFE MADE IN VAIN

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 8.—A race with death in an attempt to save the life of Mrs. Arthur Silverstein, seventy-year-old wife of a fisherman, resulted in failure here yesterday. Seized with convulsions at a lonely fishing station near Washington Harbor, Isle Royale, the young woman was placed aboard a motor launch and rushed through storm-tossed waters to Port Arthur, where she died soon after reaching the hospital. Her unborn infant was also found dead when an operation was performed.

LABOR DAY RANKS HIGH AS HOLIDAY

Victorians Revel in Delightful Weather as End of Summer Is Scheduled

Once again ideal weather smiled upon Vancouver Island for Labor Day, the final holiday of Summer when camps close down and families prepare for the last big freedom before school demands its pupils again. Like a day in Midsummer rather than a day towards the end of Summer, the beaches and the country called irresistibly. With organized picnics and private picnics in favor virtually the whole of Victoria spent the day out-of-doors. Swimming, boating and fishing were popular.

COUNTRY POPULAR

In the early hours of the morning those fishermen who had not left overnight to camp in the woods made tracks for the country. The Sequimait and Nanaimo line, the Sooke line and stages carried full loads all day. The roads were one long procession of automobiles all day, either making for some popular

DANDURAND IS HEAD OF LEAGUE

Geneva, Sept. 8.—Senator Raoul Dandurand, a member of the Government of Canada without portfolio, was unanimously elected president of the League of Nations yesterday.

FOREST FIRE CUTS ISLAND HIGHWAY; ROAD CLOSED FEW HOURS FOR CULVERT REPAIRS

Forest fire suddenly cut the Island Highway, Vancouver Island's main traffic artery, at the seventeen-mile post late last night. Workmen were rushed to the scene of the outbreak to-day and officials of the Public Works Department expect that they will have the road ready for traffic again by to-night.

SENATOR BRADBURY DIED IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Senator George H. Bradbury, of Selkirk, Manitoba, died here Sunday evening after a lengthy illness. His death increased to three the number of vacancies in the Senate, the appointment of eight men to the Upper House having been announced last Saturday by Premier King.

George Henry Bradbury was born in Hamilton, Ontario, June 25, 1859, and educated in Ottawa. Success in the business world led to his becoming a manufacturer of brick, in which field he built up a large trade. For many years he was managing director of the Silica Pressed Brick Company, retiring from the company in 1914.

As a contractor he handled a number of large building operations in Ontario before moving to the prairies.

ACCIDENT AT QUEBEC EXHIBITION

Quebec, Sept. 8.—An accident occurred on the scenic railway at the exhibition grounds here last night when the fun and frolic of the 30,000 holiday makers was at its height. One of the cars lost its power contact while making one of the thrilling ascents and crashed downwards into another car which was just beginning the climb. None of the passengers was seriously hurt.

GRISDALE STATES PRAIRIES ASSURED OF GREAT MONEY RETURN FOR WHEAT CROP

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—Dr. J. H. Grisdale of Ottawa, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has returned here after an extensive survey of agricultural conditions on the prairies, says he believes the grain crop of this year will compare favorably with that of 1923. He considers the damage from rust has been overestimated and that the crop will prove economical to thresh.

He stated that though he did not wish to commit himself, he could say there was every likelihood that before long there would be a great deal more space available for the exportation of Canadian cattle to the Old Country.

WAS CHIEF OF POLICE 22 YEARS; JOHN M. LANGLEY

John M. Langley, former chief of police, passed away at his home this morning at 6.30 o'clock, after a short illness.

FORMER CHIEF OF VICTORIA POLICE DIES

John Mount Langley, for over twenty years chief of police here, passed away at his home this morning at 6.30 o'clock, after a short illness.

John Mount Langley Succumbed This Morning After Short Illness

Was Head of City Police Force For Twenty-two Years

John Mount Langley, for over twenty years chief of police here, passed away at his home this morning at 6.30 o'clock, after a short illness.

John Langley, who was born here in 1861, succeeded the late ex-Chief H. P. Sheppard in office in the year 1899. He was chief of police at the age of thirty-five years, after having spent sixteen years previous on the provincial police force.

He was deputy sheriff and provincial constable in the county of Victoria for the first six years of his service with the provincial force, and for the latter ten years of office with this department was sergeant under Superintendent Hughes.

APPOINTED CHIEF

On December 31, 1899, Mr. Langley resigned his position, then a sergeant in the provincial police, and was the same day appointed chief of the Victoria police department.

Chief Langley was eminently fitted for the position he held, his long experience in the provincial service having afforded him unexcelled opportunities in the way of information and training so requisite to the head of a department. There was perhaps no man better acquainted with British Columbia than he was one of the best known police officers on the Pacific coast, and had been engaged upon a great number of famous cases, notably the Van Horst robbery and the Northfield murder.

He was responsible for the capture of many noted criminals during his term of office, and was recognized as one of the most successful detective workers in this section of the country. His ability was exceptional, his integrity unquestioned. His last labors on the provincial police force were in connection with "whisky cases," he having been sent to the Northern part of the island on two trips, and on both occasions captured his men, securing a conviction in each case.

He had many hard experiences during his long service. On one occasion, in the course of a long and arduous journey through the Omajaca country in the month of March, he, with five or six others, found it necessary to pull their canoe, loaded with two tons of freight, from the tidewaters to the headwaters of the Skeena River, a distance of about 180 miles.

BUILT UP FORCE

On assuming his duties as chief of police in 1899, ex-Chief Langley found a force of twenty men at his disposal. He immediately set to work to reorganize this along his own lines, and soon had a perfectly working machine.

WARRANTS FOR 600 SEAMEN

Melbourne, Sept. 8.—Warrants for the arrest of 600 striking British seamen have been issued here. The men are charged with refusing to return to duty aboard their ships.

Wedding on Wharf; Seaplane Voyage

Prince Rupert, Sept. 8.—A unique wedding ceremony was performed here to-day when Horace Duhamel, pioneer barber, and Mrs. Albertine Fortier were married on the chief steamship dock. The bride and groom immediately stepped into a Vickers-Viking seaplane for a honeymoon flight to Ketchikan, Alaska, piloted by Colonel J. Scott Williams of Montreal, who recently arrived back from the Cassiar district following his Summer's exploration work. The party will return by seaplane from Ketchikan to-morrow.

LIBERAL CONVENTION TO BE HELD ABOUT SEPTEMBER 22 TO SELECT STANDARD-BEARER

While Victoria Conservatives, dubious over his prospects in a contest, are seeking to secure an acclamation for Hon. S. P. Tolmie, local Liberals are arranging to hold a convention about September 22 to nominate a candidate in the Federal election of October 29. Arrangement for the Liberal convention are well under way now and a definite date will be fixed within the next few days.

The idea of Dr. Tolmie being elected by acclamation, leading Liberals state, is without foundation. The circulation of reports that Victoria Liberals would not nominate a candidate is regarded as a marked sign of weakness on the part of the Conservative Party.

Dr. Tolmie, whose re-nomination by the Conservative Party here is certain, will remain in the West for some time. The fact that he expects to be in and around Victoria during the next few weeks. The Eastern constituencies of Canada, although they come within his sphere of influence, are not his constituency. He is a Conservative organizer, will be handled by other Conservative leaders during the election campaign now under way. The fact that Dr. Tolmie intends to spend much of his time in British Columbia indicates that his party is anxious about events in this Province. Just now the issue of the Conservative Party is the issuance of statements predicting a Conservative landslide in October.

Meanwhile Hon. H. H. Stevens is having his troubles in Vancouver. Old-time Conservatives of Vancouver refuse to have anything to do with Mr. Stevens's wing of the party which, when it failed to elect Mr. Stevens as provincial leader, backed out of the organization and formed the Provincial Party two years ago.

Postponement of the Conservative convention in Greater Vancouver to the last possible minute has been necessitated by the difficulty of persuading the two factions to work together.

If Mr. Stevens wants a Conservative nomination he must come to the Conservatives for it, the old-timers say, and leave his Provincial Party friends behind.

Alderman E. S. Woodward may be a third candidate in the Victoria contest. Mr. Woodward's friends are attempting to secure the support of Victoria Liberals for him, but this is regarded as quite impossible. It is understood, however, that Mr. Woodward may run as an independent in his political ideas.

SEARCH FOR HAWAII SEAPLANE IS FUTILE

No Trace of PN-9 No. 1 Found By Craft Which Have Searched Sea

Honolulu, Sept. 8.—Search for the United States naval seaplane PN-9 No. 1, which disappeared a week ago after nearly covering the distance between San Francisco and Honolulu, continued unceasingly to-day. Despite the efforts put forth by the United States navy, there has been no trace of the plane or its crew of five.

All naval vessels available are scouring that area of the Pacific wherein the plane is likely to have drifted.

PREMIER KING'S SPEECHES IN REGION OF GREAT LAKES ARE START OF COMMONS APPEAL

Prime Minister Addresses Audiences in Erindale and Exeter, Ontario; Many Toronto Liberals at Former Town; Leader Declares Meighen's Pessimistic Statements do Much Harm to Canada.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Premier King returned from Southwestern Ontario to the more central part of the province to-day in the course of his general election campaign. From Exeter, where he spoke yesterday, he returned to Toronto, where at noon he was the guest at the luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition. He then proceeded to Erindale, seventeen miles west of Toronto to speak at a Liberal gathering in support of W. R. Parker, Liberal candidate in Peel County. A large contingent of Toronto Liberals went to Erindale this afternoon to attend the meeting.

Premier King, in a statement, made public, made a sharp rejoinder to Mr. Meighen's reply to his Richmond Hill speech.

"What has Mr. Meighen to offer that has not already been proposed and effectively turned down both in the country and in Parliament?" Mr. King asked, adding: "Nothing, absolutely nothing." His leader of the Opposition, his attitude from the very outset has been a purely negative and destructive attitude.

"I challenge any of Mr. Meighen's followers to make mention of one new constructive idea he has put forward in the last four years." In this regard he said, the attitude of Mr. Forke and of Mr. Cregar had been very different, though they had not hesitated to oppose when they thought opposition was called for.

POOR CHOICES

Mr. King criticized the men whom Mr. Meighen had to offer as possible ministers if returned.

"Does he propose to resurrect the remnant of the old Unionist administration which helped him to keep his head above water from July 1919 to December 1921, at the time he usurped the power of government?" asked the Premier. "He can not very well go back on Mr. Forke or Dr. Manion or Dr. Tolmie, Senator Calder or Mr. Ballantyne, all five of whom professed to be Liberals who had joined the Unionist administration only as patriots. Are these the men the Conservative Party proposes to put at the head of affairs?"

The old Conservative Party is in bad way when it comes to making up its cabinet out of Liberal deserters.

QUEBEC FIGURES

"Then there is the group of Nationalists from Quebec with which Mr. Meighen surrounded himself when he appealed to the country in 1921. Mr. Riordan, Mr. Monty, Mr. Patenaude and Mr. Fauteux, who did not win for him a single seat in Quebec, and who were unable to command the support of even the Conservatives of that province. These are the gentlemen who are Mr. Meighen's lieutenants in Quebec in the present contest."

With the exception of Armand Lavergne, he does not appear to have won other recruits in Quebec in the last four years. Are these the men he intends to drop. The country has a right to know.

MR. ROGERS, TOO

"Finally, there is Mr. Rogers of Manitoba—the Hon. Robert Rogers. He is again to the fore as Mr. Meighen's right bower, asserting that the Conservatives are not won by prayers. Does the Conservative Party propose to see its affairs controlled by Mr. Rogers? If so, I greatly fear they (Concluded on page 2)

IRISH CONFERENCE PLANS BEING MADE

Dublin, Sept. 8.—The belief prevails here that before the report of the Irish Boundary Commission is promulgated a further attempt will be made by the British Cabinet to bring together the Northern and Southern Governments with a view to an amicable agreement has been impossible because of the widely differing estimates of the extent of the commission's powers. Thus there has been no basis for effective exchanges of views, but as soon as the commission's decision is known, the situation will be altered.

WERE CHASED AWAY
Yesterday at Rotherham a band of Communists gathered in the public square for the purpose of insulting Princess Mary and her husband, and the members of the Royal Party accompanying the princess, who opened a hospital. The temerity of the Communists in working so openly incensed the people, who broke up their meeting, destroyed their banners and chased them from the streets before the princess's arrival.

WEEK OF AGITATION

Scotland Yard is reported to have handed the Home Secretary evidence of an alarming spread of communism since the late Labor Government moved the restriction against the entry of Russians into Great Britain. It also has informed the Home Office of a proposal of the Communist Party of Great Britain to commence next Saturday a week of special agitation in troop centres.

NO REHEARING OF GRAIN RATE CASE

S. B. Woods, Edmonton, Says Reopening of Argument on B.C. Schedules Impossible

Barrister Believes Rail Board's Order For Lower Charges Will Stand

Edmonton, Sept. 8.—"No rehearing of any order made by the Board of Railway Commissioners is at all likely, nor, in my opinion, at all possible," said S. B. Woods, K.C., in reference to the effect that there was a possibility of a rehearing of the westward grain rate case owing to what were described as the "dissenting judgments" of Commissioners Boyce and Lawrence, following the order made by Chief Commissioner McKewen and Commissioner Frank Oliver for a cut in the rates on westbound prairie grain, equivalent to those on grain going east.

HEARD EVIDENCE

The order was made by the board that sat on the case and heard the evidence," said Mr. Woods, "and the only judgment that could be given on the application was that of the Chief Commissioner, who made the order for an equalization of rates on west-bound grain."

Mr. Woods also considers it erroneous that the memoranda handed down by Commissioners Boyce and Lawrence should be looked upon as dissenting judgments in the case, since it is quite clear, he maintains, that they were written after the order had been made.

SUGGESTION NOT APPROVED

"What appears to have happened," stated Mr. Woods, who was senior counsel to the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission of 1923, "is that Commissioners Boyce and Lawrence on August 29 stated to the chairman of the board that they wished to express themselves on the application of the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia, heard in Vancouver last Fall, if any judgment was to be given prior to the general inquiry."

"But it is clear the Chief Commissioner did not think it proper for those commissioners to take part in the judgment, since they had not heard the evidence on the application and consequently he did not agree in the suggestion."

PREMIER KING'S SPEECHES IN ONTARIO OPEN FEDERAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN

will have to count out some of their leading men.

The country will think twice before it will return to a condition from which it escaped in 1919 and altogether in 1921. Again I repeat, neither by way of policy nor personnel has Mr. Meighen anything to offer."

ONTARIO PROGRESSIVES

Premier King added a word for the Ontario Progressives. He asked Progressives who would seek to bring about the re-formation of the party, what had happened to the Drury Government. "If Progressive candidates should offer themselves in any number in Ontario," he stated, "I should see sinister hands of Toryism at work, and I would advise the innocent elector to beware of the wolf in sheep's clothing."

SPEECH IN EXETER

In Exeter yesterday afternoon Premier King dealt with Mr. Meighen's recent course and its effect on Canada.

It was particularly in touching on difficulties in securing immigrants that Mr. King was most critical of Mr. Meighen. There were, he declared, two reasons greater than any which had prevented immigration. The first was Mr. Meighen and the second was the cost of bringing in immigrants.

"I say," Mr. King declared, "that of all the things which have helped migration to the United States, the greatest is the belief that we have a depression in this country, that the United States is more prosperous than Canada, and no influence has worked to that end the way he has worked and talked about conditions in this country."

"What," Mr. King asked, "could more effectively help migration to the United States than to have the leader of a great political party declaring there was prosperity in the United States while there was depression in Canada?"

"There has been suffering in Canada," Mr. King added, "but there had also been suffering in the United States."

The Prime Minister asked that the country give him a substantial majority in the new House of Commons that his Government might effectively deal with the problems of the tariff, transportation, immigration, and Senate reform. He spoke of difficulties which the Government had encountered in Parliament with a nominal majority of only one in the House and with the Senate majority hostile toward it.

Dogs Get Worst of it In Apartment Houses

New York, Sept. 8.—The tragedy of dogs that are cooped up in apartment houses seems much greater than that of humans. The humans could move, but the dogs have little choice in the matter. At such times as they are allowed outside they must be muzzled and in the parks, where Manhattan's only green grass grows, they must be kept on the leash.

They are very few places about town where a dog may get a drink of fresh water.

On the other day a Mrs. Vivian Meade was arrested for holding a pet Pomeranian up to a drinking fountain.

She testified that she wasn't giving the dog a drink, but was merely treating it to a bath. The judge

R. D. MCKENZIE DIED AT HALL'S PRAIRIE

Formerly Was Reeve of Surrey; Member of Council Many Years

Cloverdale, B. C., Sept. 8.—R. D. McKenzie, ex-Reeve of Surrey and for many years a prominent member of the Surrey Council, died at his home at Hall's Prairie last night.

Born in Kingston, Bruce County, Ontario, he came to reside in British Columbia in 1883. He is survived by a widow, D. E. McKenzie, manager of the New Westminster Exhibition, Frank McKenzie, ex-M.P. for Delta, and Capt. Angus McKenzie of Mission, are brothers, and Mrs. Robert Walker of Victoria a sister.

FORMER CHIEF OF VICTORIA POLICE DIES

In the three years following Mr. Langley's advent to office in Victoria, the amount of actual crime very materially lessened. So effective were his methods in dealing with the malefactors of the day that crime was discouraged, and on every hand was evidence of the system and unity pervading the force under his leadership.

It was so during the whole twenty-two years of his service as chief of police. Whether in small matters or in the police problems of the day, where serious crime was concerned, Chief Langley went about his duties in the same manner, whether he was plunging through heavy underbrush on the trail of a desperado who might lie in wait for him with gun ready, and displayed reckless courage and daring.

Practically at the completion of his twenty-first year of service as chief of the Victoria city police force John M. Langley obtained leave of absence on the occasion of his visit to the United Kingdom in December, 1920, leaving acting chief, the late Thomas Palmer.

On that occasion ex-Chief Langley was presented with a testimonial by the force in a ceremony at the city police headquarters, when he was made the recipient of a handsome traveling bag, and Mrs. Langley a dressing case, just prior to their departure.

In making the presentation Police Magistrate George Jay then recalled that he first met the late chief fifty years before that date, when both were pupils at the same school.

The late Chief Langley was the son of James Langley of Litchfield, Staffordshire, England, and was born the day the city of Victoria was founded. His first wife passed away in 1917 and he is survived by his widow, who is living at Windsor Road, Oak Bay, and who was formerly Miss Shrapnell of Victoria. His son, Mr. Stanley P. Langley of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife, is in Victoria.

The late chief is survived by two brothers, one in California and by George Langley, in Vancouver.

Funeral arrangements will be made later. The late ex-chief will be buried as befits a past police chief of Victoria.

Attempted Murder Vancouver Charge

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Bail was set at $5,000 and a remand of one week ordered when Andy Brown appeared before Magistrate J. J. Finlay in police court here to-day on a charge of attempted murder, the result of an alleged affray in an apartment block on Saturday evening.

Maxine Armstrong, alleged to have been shot by Brown, is making good progress toward recovery, according to hospital authorities.

CANBERRA CITY IS INAUGURATED AS AUSTRALIAN CAPITAL

Empire Press Delegates at Historic Ceremony in Commonwealth

Former Premier Hughes Tells of Growth of Nation of the South

London, Sept. 8. (Canadian Press Cable)—The London Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Sydney, Australia, says the Empire press delegates spent a most interesting day at Canberra Monday. The occasion was the formal inauguration of Canberra as the capital of Australia.

"In 1913 there was practically nothing within the amphitheatre of hills which enclose the site of the new capital to indicate the future purpose of the Government in connection with Canberra," the Telegraph's correspondent says. "When the Prince of Wales visited Canberra on his Australian tour in 1920 he described the place as a city of foundation stones."

RECENTLY PASTURE

"To-day the Empire press delegates saw copious evidence of a noble city worthy of the great Commonwealth, emerging from what recently was grazing land."

Former Premier Hughes, who took a prominent part in welcoming the delegates, said the Dunrobin House, stood on the site of the new capital was built 100 years ago, when there were only 40,000 white people in Australia. Now there were 6,000,000 people in Australia, he said, whose income from trade far exceeded that of Great Britain at the time of the Napoleonic wars.

The delegates are in Australia to attend the Imperial Press Conference in Melbourne.

Housing Shortage Still a Problem

London, Sept. 8.—A married couple with a large family finds it almost impossible to obtain accommodation in large towns and have to wait their turn for tenancy of a corporation house.

On the other hand, many couples are handicapped in their applications from the fact that their family is not numerous.

With the object of helping ex-service men out of this difficulty, a few public-spirited citizens of Liverpool months ago formed a small building company and purchased a piece of land close to the site of one of the municipal housing schemes. Here, thirty tenements or flats have since been built. Twelve consist of a living room, scullery with bath, larger and three bedrooms, and the other eighteen are similarly fitted but with two bedrooms only.

The buildings occupy about half an acre of land and at the rear is another acre with two best lawns, a bowling-green and partly as a rest garden for the mothers, the remainder being reserved as a play ground for the children. The ground floor dwellings will be allotted to ex-service men who have undergone the misfortune of leg amputations. The total outlay on the scheme will be a little over £15,000, towards which the corporation has granted a mortgage of ninety per cent on its valuation of the houses and in addition a subsidy of £75 per tenant has been received. The flats with three bedrooms are rented at 18s. 6d. per week, and for those with two bedrooms 15s. 6d. will be charged, in each case, inclusive of rates.

Already the demand for tenancies has been so great that plans are under consideration for the erection of further buildings of the same kind. The whole idea is in the nature of an experiment, and it is hoped that it

SUIT FOR LEGAL FEES IS PRESSED

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Suit for legal fees totaling $2,500 for services in collecting notes of the defunct Dominion Trust Company, now in liquidation, through the arbitral tribunal and the German Clearing House under the treaty of peace in 1920, was started to-day by Messrs McQuarrie, Martin, Cassady and Macgowan, solicitors, before Mr. Justice Murphy in Supreme Court chambers here.

The claim arises from collection of $160,000 from the Werner von Alvensleben Bank House on the Mülsestrasse in Berlin, Germany, money owed the Dominion Trust Company by the firm on notes given before the war. The collections were made by arbitration.

Hearing this morning of the suit was adjourned until Tuesday.

PLANS TO INCREASE EXPORTS OF CANADA

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Following a summer's work on the preparation of data and general information on the subject, the special agricultural committee of the Quebec Legislature has called for September 22 a general interprovincial conference at which representatives of all the provinces and the Federal Government will discuss the recommendation for a national export marketing commission to handle Canadian food products. Out of the conference the special committee hopes to evolve for the Legislature a comprehensive workable scheme to improve marketing conditions for Canadian farm produce in the overseas markets.

La Follette to be Wisconsin Candidate

Washington, Sept. 8.—The senatorial contest in Wisconsin, to fill the vacancy in the Upper House of the United States Congress left by the death of Senator La Follette, is beginning to take definite form and is commanding national attention.

The contest is resolving itself into a struggle on the part of the regular Republicans, or "the Old Guard," to crush the La Follette organization. At the same time, the Democrats would like to take advantage of the factional differences between the Republican elements and elect a senator themselves.

Robert M. La Follette Jr., known as "Young Bob," is announcing as a candidate for the Republican nomination at the primaries which will be held this month. The Old Guard leaders at a recent meeting at Oshkosh selected Roy P. Wilcox as the man to get the regular Republican support for the nomination. Thus there will be a battle for the nomination between "Young Bob" and Wilcox, the latter being one of the prominent anti-La Follette Republicans of the state. The Coolidge administration is favorable to Wilcox, as evidence of which is the fact that Senator Butler, Republican National Committee chairman, is going to Wisconsin before the primaries and Senator Watson and other Old Guard senators will speak in the state. Senator Lenroot is backing Wilcox, hoping the La Follette organization may be broken. If it is, Lenroot will have easier sailing for re-election next year.

AID OF PROGRESSIVES
"Young Bob" on the other hand, will have the support of the Wisconsin Progressive Republicans and the good will of the Progressive Republicans the country over. They realize that if the La Follette forces are crushed, it will be a blow at the Progressive Republican cause in the nation. "Young Bob" is expected in his campaign particularly to advocate legislation to aid agriculture and reduction of freight rates.

It is too early to tell who will win the primary election. Former Governor Francis P. McGovern of Milwaukee insists he will also be in the race and with him running, the La Follette forces feel confident of winning. A straight fight between "Young Bob" and Wilcox would probably be close.

Representative Oldfield, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, will visit Wisconsin soon. He will urge the Democrats there to get behind some strong member of their party and try to win the senatorship away from the warring Republican factions.

Attention is also being directed to the North Dakota situation, where a senator is yet to be selected to succeed the late Senator E. F. Ladd. The latest gossip is that Governor Sorlie may appoint Mrs. Ladd, widow of the senator.

GIN WAS HIDDEN IN HOLLOW LOGS

Gouverneur, N.Y., Sept. 8.—An ingenious method of concealing contraband liquor shipped from Canada is reported to have been discovered at Emeryville, near here. Employees of a pulp mill found pulp logs hollowed out and filled with quart bottles of gin.

Investigation is said to have disclosed about 400 logs hollowed out in this manner, each cavity filled with a bottle. The ends of the logs were carefully closed and gave the wood an appearance of being perfectly solid.

Watch Out, Madam!

When beauty is at stake
use Palmolive

FOR your sake and for ours, we must combat a false idea. Some people, we learn, think ordinary soaps, claiming to be "for the complexion," have an effect similar to Palmolive.

That is wrong. They don't. Palmolive complexions come only from Palmolive. In the old days you were told, "Use no soap on your face." For soaps were too harsh.

Then came Palmolive. It was made of cosmetic oils, of olive and palm oils famous as beautifiers since the days of Cleopatra—combined in a secret beauty blend. It was made to be used freely, to be used lavishly on the skin.

Then note what happened. Women tried it, got amazing results, and told others. Palmolive became the leading toilet soap of the world. In France, the home of cosmetics, Palmolive is one of the two largest selling toilet soaps. French women have largely discarded French soaps for Palmolive.

The reason is this: Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is a scientific soap. A soap made for ONE purpose only... to foster good complexions.

It is not recommended for laundry work, nor even for fine fabrics. To make it good for those things, we should have to reduce its cosmetic qualities greatly. And good complexions are too precious to be thus endangered.

So we ask you, madam, when seeking a soap for fabric cleansing, to get a good laundry soap.

But we urge you, above all things, when beauty is your aim, to use Palmolive. Palmolive is not claimed the only great complexion soap. We know of two others. But they cost you 25 cents, while Palmolive sells for but 10 cents... no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

Wash, cleanse, launder with any soap you wish. But for your face... take care!... use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

IN PARIS

French women are discarding
French soaps for Palmolive

Palmolive is today one of the two greatest selling toilet soaps in France. Parisian beauties are glad to pay almost twice as much for a cake of Palmolive as Canadian women pay. And, in many cases, three times as much as for their own French soaps. Remember this when tempted by "French" claims for soaps.

(MADE IN CANADA)

Note carefully
the name and wrapper.
Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

MAN WHO STABBED THREE IS HUNTED

Woman and Two Girls in Montreal Unable to Describe
Assailant

Attacks All Were Made in Same Part of the City

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Three girls were stabbed on Sunday, one seriously, by a "phantom dagger man" for whom the police were to-day combing the city. The stabbings all took place in the same district and were remarkable in that none of the victims saw the assailant.

Flora Campbell, twenty-six, was stabbed in the back while walking on Cadieux Street early in the morning and had to be taken to a hospital.

Corvina, thirteen, was stabbed while crossing the Place d'Armes on her way to church. Laura Bouchard, sixteen, told the police she thought she must have received her wounds on Craig Street, although she felt no pain at the time. Later she discovered three distinct wounds on her back, blood from which had covered her clothing.

BIG POWER SCHEME ON BAY OF FUNDY

Eastport, Maine, Sept. 8.—The project to utilize for power purposes the tides of the Bay of Fundy, which vary at this point as much as twenty-seven feet, as proposed by Dexter P. Cooper, hydraulic engineer, is attracting widespread attention. It is to be the subject of a state-wide referendum in Maine September 14.

The election issue is whether the state shall permit the Fundy project, if developed, to sell electric power outside the state. Mr. Cooper declares there is enough electrical power available in the Fundy tides to supply light, heat and power for manufacturing purposes to a large part of the Eastern states.

Mr. Cooper, who built the dam across the Mississippi River at Keokuk, Iowa, by negotiating with a system of enormous gates the inflow and outflow of the Bay of Fundy, hopes to generate from 500,000 to 700,000 horsepower, or twice the amount of energy which Muscle Shoals are expected to yield.

Mr. Cooper, who asserts his scheme is scientifically practicable, is a brother of Colonel Hugh L. Cooper, consulting engineer of Muscle Shoals. Besides building the Keokuk dam, which was considered difficult, because of the shifting bed of the river, Mr. Cooper has built hydraulic power stations at Niagara Falls and has been consulting engineer for the Guggenheim mining interests in South America.

MUCH WORK TO DO

It is estimated by Mr. Cooper that it would take 5,000 men five years to build the gigantic gates and dams by which he proposes to bottle up the tides and run them through turbine engines in their backward rush to the sea.

The cost of constructing the plant, Mr. Cooper says, would be about $75,000,000. Once the plan should receive official approval by the state and the sanction of the United States and Canadian Governments, between whose territories the Bay of Fundy lies, the money for the scheme, he believes, would be forthcoming, because, as he contends, the vast production of electric power would permit of selling it at low cost, yet at a reasonable profit.

REGION OF HIGH TIDES

The Bay of Fundy is famous for its high tides. These are caused by the peculiar submarine topography and the wedge shape of the adjacent shores, which throw up tides from twenty-one to twenty-seven feet twice a day. The two inlets which Mr. Cooper has selected for his project are known as Passamaquoddy Bay and Cobscook Bay. The first he has designated as the upper pool and the second as the lower pool. The two inlets are V-shaped, with the narrow necks, almost stopped up by small islands meeting at Eastport.

At the mouth of the upper pool, which contains 100 square miles of water, Mr. Cooper plans to construct a wall 4,000 feet long and seventy feet high. The wall would be provided with thirty-three gates. The mouth of the lower pool, which contains fifty square miles of water, would be closed by a wall 2,400 feet long and provided with gates. Between the two pools there would be erected a separating wall 3,000 feet long, on which the power houses would be located.

CONTINUOUS FALL
The theory of the whole scheme is this: The gates of the upper pool would be opened only during rising tides, while the gates of the lower pool would be opened only during falling tides. This, according to Mr. Cooper, would keep a supply of water in the upper pool, while the lower pool would be constantly emptied. The fall of the water from the upper pool through the turbines into the lower pool, he asserts, would afford a continuous downfall whether the tides were rising or falling.

Uncle Wiggily's Busy Day

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Gari)

"Hurray! Hurray! Hurray!" joyfully shouted Skipper and Nipper and Tipper, three of the little rabbit-boys who live with Uncle Wiggily in his hollow stump bungalow. "Oh, what fun we are going to have!"

"Why all the shouting?" asked the abbot gentleman who had been awakened from his early morning sleep. "Is this the Fourth of July?"

"No, but it is almost as good," answered Wizzer, who, with her twin brother Wizzer, was jumping about in the red clover grass.

"This is a holiday and we are going to have fun!" said Scooter.

"It's Labor Day," added Tooter, trying to play a tune on an old-fashioned stem, for he was always tooting and whistling, which is how he got his queer name.

"Oh, if it's Labor Day, we must all work," said Uncle Wiggily, pretending to be serious as he twinkled his pink nose.

"No! No!" cried the rabbit children. "Labor Day isn't to work—it's to have fun!" And around the bungalow they ran, shouting, laughing and skipping with glee.

"Is this really a holiday, my dear?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his new wife, as he slid down the banister railing, a eat his breakfast, for he was so busy-looking for adventures he seldom kept account of the days of the week.

"This is Labor Day," answered Mrs. Longears. "No one must work or it is a holiday."

"It seems queer to call it Labor Day when no one is supposed to work, but to play instead," said Uncle Wiggily.

Away hopped Mr. Longears.

ly, as he began to nibble some of the lettuce long cake on the table.

"Well, eat your breakfast and then play with the children," advised his wife. "I am going over to play the piano with Mrs. Twistytail, the lady who can get your own breakfast, can't you?"

"Why, certainly," answered the sunny. "And if I can't Nurse Jane fuzzy Wuzzy can help me."

"Oh, but Nurse Jane has gone away for the day," said Mrs. Longears. She must celebrate the holiday, you know."

"Of course," agreed Uncle Wiggily, "well, hop along, my dear. I dare say I shall do very well by myself." But when he went to get his cup of carrot coffee the pot upset and spilled the coffee all over the floor. "Dear me! This will never do!" cried the bunny. I must mop up that mess! And he did, working hard to scrub the pitchen floor. "But still, as it is Labor Day, I should work a little," said Uncle Wiggily.

Then he hopped out to play around a the grass with the little bunny children, but no sooner had Tooter pined his Daddy than the little rabbit boy cried:

"Oh, my kite is broken! Will you please mend it for me?"

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, kindly, going to hop around and play a bit when Scooter called:

"Oh, my top is lost; will you please help me find it, Daddy?"

It took Uncle Wiggily half an hour to find Scooter's top where the little bunny had forgotten it. And when the top was spinning up came running Wizzer, with her doll, whose eyes had fallen into the back of her head.

"Please get my doll's eyes out so she can see!" begged Wizzer, and then Uncle Wiggily had worked hard to do this Nipper broke the mast of

Toronto Mother Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a splendid medicine to take before and after confinement. A small book was put in my door one day advertising Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine, and as I did not feel at all well at the time I went and got a bottle of Vegetable Compound right away. I soon began to notice a difference in my general health. I was full of aches and pains at the time and thought I had every complaint going, but I can truly say your medicine certainly did me good. I can now will speak highly of it, and I know it will do other women good who are sick and ailing if they will only give it a fair trial. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills are splendid for constipation. You are welcome to use my letter if you think it will help any one."—Mrs. HARRY WESTWOOD, 543 Quebec Street, Toronto, Ontario.

The expectant mother is wise if she considers carefully this statement of Mrs. Westwood. It is but one of the great many all telling the same story—beneficial results.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for use during this period. The experience of other women who have found this medicine a blessing is proof of its great merit. Why not try it now yourself?

his toy sail boat and a new one had to be made.

Then Jingle fell down and broke her hoop, and that had to be mended. Then Jangle's doll carriage lost a wheel and Uncle Wiggily had to gnaw a new one off a log of wood. And then Skipper broke his little wheelbarrow and it took Mr. Longears an hour to fix it.

The children played about all the morning and afternoon, bringing their broken toys to be mended all the while, and when night came all the little rabbits said:

"Oh, wasn't Labor Day lots of fun! Wasn't it, Daddy?"

"Well, it certainly was a busy day for me," laughed the bunny uncle, as he sat down to rest himself. "It was a labor day all right." But still he liked it. ## 4.4 BEER FAILS TO SATISFY ONTARIO. CONGRESSMEN FIND

Public Wants Still Harder Stuff; Bootlegging Not Cut Down

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Congressman Hudson, chairman of a special subcommittee appointed by congress to study enforcement of the Volstead act, has concluded his visit here with a party to investigate bootlegging.

"Our subcommittee," he said, "made a survey of our whole official and industrial life with respect to the effect and its enforcement. Certain members of congress have said that Ontario's 4.4 beer would greatly lessen the resistance to the Volstead act. We came to see if that is correct. We have been making inquiries in some of your towns and cities as to the effect of your policy."

CANADIANS NOT SATISFIED

"In the cities we have visited we have met the boards of commerce, mayors, aldermen, chief of police, prohibition workers and also the leaders of the Moderation league. We put to them the following question: 'Has 4.4 satisfied the desire of the populace who wanted a drink stronger in alcoholic content than 2.5?'"

"The answer to that question was an almost universal negative."

"In 95, I'd almost say 97, per cent. of the cases," Congressman Hudson said, "the answer was a decided 'No.' We were informed that after the first few days of trial the public turned away, considering the new beverage no better but merely more expensive than 2.5. It has not, it is said, been in any way satisfactory. In most places the license holders told us 4.4 had been a fiasco and failure and had not reimbursed them for their additional expenditure."

This American commission's second question was: "Has 4.4 decreased the sale of illicit liquor?"

The universal reply, it is said, with one exception again was "No." In a number of towns it was said that there had been an increase in the number of arrests for drunkenness.

The third question was: "Has 4.4 weaned the drinker of liquor of high alcoholic content to a more moderate brew?"

The answer was, "No."

Mr. Hudson was asked if his recommendations, if favorable to Mr. Ferguson's beer, would have any dissolving effect on the Volstead act.

He replied tersely, "You might as well try to abolish the sun. Each successive vote at the primary has shown an increasing sentiment for the act. The next congress will contain a higher percentage than ever of avowed supporters."

Duke and Duchess Give First Joint Party at St. James'

(Reuter's Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times)

London, Sept. 8.—The Duke and Duchess of York gave an evening party in St. James's Palace the big function of its kind in which their Royal Highnesses have participated jointly.

White Lancers being not quite sufficiently central, the King lent St. James's Palace for the occasion, and the fine old State rooms there formed a splendid setting for the function.

The party was given mainly for representatives of and visitors from the Overseas Dominions, but there were many other guests—about 600 in all—including members of the Royal Family, ministers and ex-ministers of the Crown, and representatives of London society, generally.

The Duke and Duchess received the guests in the Queen Anne drawing-room. The Duchess was charmingly dressed in white and wore pearls and diamond ornaments. Some beautiful dresses were worn, particularly by the Indian princesses and a few Chinese notabilities who were among the guests.

FIELD DAY HELD AT SINEY PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

Special to The Times
Sidney, Sept. 8.—Several hundred people were present at the successful field day held at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Labor Day. A well varied programme of music, speeches, sports and demonstrations was carried out and the ideal weather which favored the occasion helped considerably in the enjoyable day. The beautiful surroundings were greatly appreciated by the many visitors and their charm was added to by the courtesy of the staff and Professor Straight, who extended a cordial welcome to the guests and gave an interesting resume of the many wonderful exhibits. Rogers' Veterans' Band discoursed selections before the address of welcome by Prof. Straight, after which the programme of speeches and solos was given.

Mr. Barlow then sang "A Chip of the Old Block" and as an encore "Little Irish Girl".
Dean Clement of the University of Vancouver, gave an interesting address on "Ancient and Modern Agriculture," in the course of which he made comparisons to show the progress made up to the present time. Mrs. Jameson of Victoria sang two solos very sweetly, and the band played a selection.
Mr. Straight called on the Rev. Father Scheehan to speak, as Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., had not arrived. Father Scheehan touched on the practical help the Experimental Farm had given to the farmer.

Miss Nimmo of Saanichton sang by special request, "Thank God for a Garden." After the band had played C. H. Dickie, M.P., gave a brief address. Mrs. Jameson sang a Norwegian "Echo Song."
Dr. Tolmie, the next speaker, described Saanichton as a chain of farms. What was wanted, he said, was an improvement of selling production, and he advised all to become advocates for home products. "Keep the dollar at home and so get another for it," he said. Ninety per cent of the asbestos of the world was found in Canada, but it nearly all went to the United States of America to be manufactured.

Dr. Jagger of Vancouver spoke on the "Common Diseases and Treatment of Livestock."
Mr. Barlow sang "Over the Rolling Sea."
Mrs. Lucas, of the Saanich Health Centre, spoke shortly on "Health Activities."
Dr. Parrott of Resthaven gave a most interesting and instructive address on the "Childhood of the Country."

COMMUNITY SINGING

Community singing was the next item, with the voices of the whole company joining heartily in old-time songs. The livestock judging competition caused much interest, also the demonstration by Dr. Knight of Victoria. The lucky winner of the calf for the competition was Mr. Simpson of School Cross Road, gave a demonstration on rug-making. The exhibits from the farm, which were on great attention, Mr. Straight acted as chairman. Little Jean Straight presented Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Jameson and Miss Nimmo with bouquets as they finished their performance.

SPORTS

Sports for the children were then held as follows:
Boys and girls under five—1. Minnie Latane; 2. James Speedie; 3. Alvin Grindon.

Boys under eight—1. Joe Clanton; 2. Bowden Storer; 3. J. Gorton.

Girls under fourteen—1. Dorothy Carter; 2. Bertha Snider; 3. Winnie Taylor.

Boys under sixteen—1. Bertie Ward; 2. Hugh Wylie; 3. Peter Rickerts.
Girls under sixteen—1. Alma Gorton; 2. Kathleen Watts.

Boys' three-legged race—1. Lim Louie and Pat Clanton; 2. Frank Hol- deridge and Robert Homewood; 3. Jean Randall and Roy Hoyer.
Girls' three-legged race—1. Vera Van Hansen and Bertha Carter; 2. Sylvia Gorton and Jean Speedie; 3. Irene Long and Jean Speedie.

Ladies' race—1. Mrs. Carter; 2. Mrs. Craig; 3. Miss Rowland.
Men's race—1. E. S. Knight; 2. R. Bewick.

The tug-of-war, North Saanich vs. South Saanich, was won by North Saanich.
Mr. Straight presented the prizes, and Dr. Brown of William Head, showed most interesting picture of the Dell of Saanichton, taken by him- self.

Mr. Hall was in charge of the sports. Mr. Blackburn acted as starter, and Mr. Gray and Mr. McIntyre were the judges.

Chemainus News

Special to The Times
Chemainus, Sept. 8.—Funeral services for the late Mr. Olat Gustafson were held on Friday from Calvary Baptist Church, where the service was conducted by the Rev. E. M. Cook. Interment was in the public cemetery, where the service was conducted by the Free Masons, of whom many were present. About 150 local people attended to show their last respects. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The following were pallbearers: Messrs. Stephenson, Galus, A. Porter, F. A. Reed, J. Marshall, E. Thomas.

NEW FULFORD HALL FORMALLY OPENED

Replaces One Which Was Burned to Ground in May Winners at South Salt Spring Island Show

Special to The Times
Ganges, Sept. 8.—On Friday Sept. 4 the new Institute Hall at Fulford was formally opened by Col. C. Peck, F.R.C.S., who was entertained by the Fulford people on their new hall and their wonderful spirit and co-operation in their quick work of putting up their new hall which, with its kitchen, dining-rooms, dressing-rooms, entrances, etc., are all so convenient. Their former hall was burned to the ground on May 13 and was insured, so they set to work at once, with committees and in less than four months a fine new hall was ready for use. The hall was filled with numerous exhibits in the various sections. Lots of fruits and vegetables and the flowers were lovely. Also sewing, knitting and fancywork.

The members of the Institute served lunch and tea during the afternoon and in the evening their first dance was held in the hall with good attendance. Ivor Parfitt of Victoria playing the piano and Frank Downey at the drums.

The judges were Mrs. Gordon and Mr. Phillip of Victoria, and Mr. Hayes of Kelowna.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPEN TO-DAY

Summer Vacation Terminates For Children of City

It is extraordinary how quickly the anticipated Summer holiday is a thing of the past, and more especially so with the school children of British Columbia whose annual two-months vacation was terminated yesterday with the grand finale—the Labor Day celebration. To-day marks the beginning of the Autumn session in the public schools of Victoria and in all of these, especially the high schools, there will be a much larger attendance than during the last term.

Victoria, so happily situated with its numerous beaches and playgrounds affords the school children opportunities for recuperating in mind and body after the strenuous school term and the happy eager ones who were up early this morning to answer the roll-call at their respective schools, are anxious to absorb the excellent tuition that it is their privilege to receive in the public schools of the city.

SPENCER'S NINE WIN FROM SIDNEY

Scored 4-3 Victory in Play-Off Game For McGavin Cup; Third Game Next Week

In the Commercial League play-off game staged at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday morning between Spencer's and Sidney ball teams the former won by the score of 4-3. This was the second game of the series for the McGavin Cup, emblematic of the championship. In the first game the teams battled to a five-all draw. The third and deciding game will be played at the Royal Athletic Park on Sunday, September 14.

Donaldson was on the mound for the departmentals and pitched a fine brand of ball, well deserving his victory. Williams, who twirled for Sid, hurled one of his best games this season but was given poor support by his teammates.

Sidney jumped into a one run lead in the first inning but Spencer's evened up in the second frame. Both teams accounted for one run in the third and in the fourth the millmen obtained their one-run advantage again.

Spencer's scored the winning runs in the seventh inning when they drove two runners home, obtaining a one-run advantage which won them the game.

The teams were as follows: Spencer's—Barry, Rutledge, Ross, Oatman, Quinn, Russell, Oatman, Campbell, Donaldson, Stewart and Fox.

Sidney—Lines, Alexander, Norton, Simpson, McNeil, L. Crossley, G. Williams, W. Crossley and S. Williams.

"The Beauty Shop" Will be Fine Show, Declares Director

With Gyro Charlie Hunt and Harry Hold back from their Summer activities the Gyro Club today presented its musical luncheon. The Gyro orchestra was in fine fettle and Gyro Sid Chevalier sang a popular number very well.

C. H. Lewis, director of the Beauty Shop, for the Gyros, spoke briefly to the clubmen and asked their support in the production, which he had every reason to hope would be the finest amateur show presented in this city. Mr. Lewis has called the first rehearsal for Monday night, September 14. The Beauty Shop will meet to-night with the directors of the club.

Gyro Fred Bartholomew reported an operation for appendicitis last week, was progressing very well.

Frank Humphries, a new Gyro, was welcomed to the club by President Harold Butters.

NEW SERVICE CLUB ORGANIZED IN CITY

Knights of Ye Round Table City's Newest Service Organization

To-night at 6 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce dining-room, the Victoria Table of the Royal Knights of Round Table will be introduced here for the first time, and members will attend the first dinner of the newly-formed organization.

Blair is president of Victoria's Table. W. T. Straith, barrister, is secretary.

Brig-Gen. Victor W. Odium, president of the Vancouver Table, is scheduled to speak at the inaugural meeting of the local organization.

The limit of membership of this organization here is fixed at fifty. Many mainland men, including Clifford C. James of Oakland, who is director of international relations, will assist in initiating the members of the newly-formed Table.

AGE RESIDENT OF ESQUIMALT DIED YESTERDAY

Mr. Cullison, Former Employee Marine Department, Succumbs

Levan Cullison of 510 Admiral's Road, Esquimalt, died yesterday morning at the age of seventy-four years. He was born in the United States, but had resided in Victoria for the past thirty-five years.

Twenty-seven years of which he had been in the employ of the Marine Department of the Federal Government in the capacity of foreman erec-tor of lighthouse apparatus for the Victoria agency.

He was married three years ago. He is mourned by his widow and one son, Judson, of Mayne Island, and two daughters, Mrs. McDonald of Esquimalt and Mrs. Dobb of Duncan, B.C.

The funeral will take place on Thursday, September 10, at 10 a.m. from the funeral chapel, Rev. Henry Knox will conduct the service at 2.30 o'clock, after which the remains will be laid to rest in Royal Oak burial park.

NO OPPOSITION TO NEILL ANTICIPATED

Comox-Alberni Member May Be Elected to Dominion House by Acclamation

Special to The Times

Courtenay, B.C., Sept. 8.—At a meeting of A. W. Neill's committee at Cumberland, the following resolution was passed:

"That this meeting is of the opinion that the first plank in the independent platform of four years ago namely, opposition to the Meighen Government, should be cut out and the following substituted therefore:

"In the event of the return to power of either a Liberal or Conservative Government the nominated candidate will be pledged to support any constructive legislation brought by either party if it is in the best interests of Comox-Alberni district and British Columbia generally."

In view of this declaration which was drawn up by the independents among Mr. Neill's supporters there will probably be no opposition to Mr. Neill's candidature for re-election to the Dominion House.

PENSIONS BOARD NOW IN SESSION

Traveling Federal Body Will Deal With Many Cases Here

CANADA HAS FUTURE OF GREAT PROMISE

C. H. O'Halloran Tells Kiwanis Club History Foretells Great Progress For Dominion

C. H. O'Halloran spoke this afternoon before the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, his subject being "Canada, Our Heritage."

He paid tribute to the pioneers of the land, as the basis from which has sprung the dominant force of what is to be a great and strong land. He dealt briefly with the coming of Confederation and the progress and expansion which followed.

The coming of the Great War was occasion for a display of courage by Canada. The ordeal of the world-wide struggle, the battlefields of Europe, had won for Canada the respect of the nations, and the land had come to manhood among the peoples of the world.

The difficulties encountered in the recent period of reconstruction had been, in his opinion, due in great part to the new realization of nationhood by Canada, the troubles being only a phase of national growth, normal and to be expected. In support of his view he quoted Premier Mackenzie King as representing prevailing views that a united Canada within the British Empire is the only way to the benefit of the land and the good of the world.

A pre-Confederation quotation from an address by Sir Charles Tupper supported the same views in most prophetic vein, Mr. O'Halloran pointing to the remarkable similarity in views despite the passage of sixty-five years.

Mr. O'Halloran drew from Canada's past history a forecast of the growth ahead. Economics are an important factor in dividing Canada into four great sections, the Maritime Provinces, Ontario, and Quebec, the prairies and British Columbia, he pointed out, making an appeal for broadminded treatment by all of the complaints of other areas, an attitude of mind which he believed the Kiwanis Clubs can aid in fostering.

"Our forebears built better than they knew, we are citizens of no mean country," he concluded amid applause.

ANNUAL TAX SALE HELD AT OAK BAY

Seventeen Lots Sold This Morning; Auction Will Continue To-morrow

Seventeen lots were sold for $1,846.37 this morning by R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk of Oak Bay, who is acting as auctioneer, at the annual tax sale of properties of the 1923 taxes have remained unpaid. A large crowd of buyers attended, but bidding was inclined to be slow.

Out of the ninety-two lots to be sold, seventy-one reverted to the corporation for tax arrears of $1,064, while four were not put up for sale. The sale will continue to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Two houses were sold this morning.

During the last three business days no less than fifty lots were protected from sale by the payment of taxes. One lot was saved this morning. A registered letter was received during the progress of the sale, with the necessary money for the payment of the taxes.

Hart Meets McQuade In City Golf Final

Disposed of Stiff Opposition in Various Rounds and Will Play Thirty-six Holes for Championship Next Week; Dick Moore Proves Sensation of Tournament and Just Misses Finals; Young Players do Well

John Hart and Ed. McQuade won the right yesterday to compete in the finals for the city golf championship. They will meet next Sunday at the Colwood Golf Club in a 36-hole match.

The city tournament which opened with a 36-hole qualifying round on Saturday and four rounds of match play on Sunday and Monday, has produced a number of upsets and brings into the finals two players who have not previously had that honor.

Frank Thomas, the defending champion, went under early. Hart defeated him 4 up and 3 to play in the first round. Both had medal scores of 76 but Hart secured an early advantage which he clung to despite a desperate finish by Thomas.

Dick Moore, the sixteen-year-old rising star of the Victoria Golf Club, has proved the sensation of the tournament, although he failed to reach the finals by the proverbial gnats' eyebrow. Moore was in the lower half of the draw, where he had to fight his way through very tough opposition. In the first round he was pitted against the mighty-hitting John Savitien, a title-holder of the Uplands Golf Club. He won this match by 3 and 2. In the second round he met A. V. Price, of Uplands, not only a former city but also a former provincial champion, and polished him off by 3 and 2.

WON ON EXTRA HOLE

Going into the third round Moore met Ronnie Scott-Moncrieff, who in the morning had knocked Jack Matson out of the running by 4 and 3. At the sixteenth tee Moncrieff was 2 up and 3 to go. Moore played brilliantly to square the match on the eighteenth. In the extra hole Moore was over the green with his second shot, while Moncrieff found the bunker and required a "six," which lost him the match.

Moore faced McQuade in the semi-finals, and here he lost the decision at the nineteenth. Moore was 2 up and 3 to go when McQuade came through with a garish finish, getting four on the last three holes and squaring the match. At the extra hole Moore again had a "five," but it was not good enough, as McQuade had a "four."

Hart met Harold Wilson in the second round and won by 2 and 1, while he defeated R. J. Darcus in the semi-final by the comfortable margin of 4 and 3.

HAD BEST CARD

N. Thornton Fell, another of the rising stars of this city, had the best card of the tournament, making a round in 74 on Sunday, but he went down to unexpected defeat in the second round when A. Christopher, of Macaulay, beat him 3 up.

Another unusual feature of the championship was the fact that in the second round five of the eight players were youngsters, who rapidly belonged to the front. The quintette included Harold Wilson, Jack Harrgrave, Christopher Moore and Scott-Moncrieff. The veterans were Hart, Darcus and McQuade.

Mainland Cricketers Defeat Island Eleven

Islanders Helpless Before Superb Bowling of Rivers; Side All Out in First Innings for 87, While Mainlanders Batted Merrily for 206; Locals Did Little Better in Second Innings

Under ideal weather conditions and with both teams "on their toes" from start to finish, the third and concluding match between eleven from Vancouver Island and the Mainland was decided yesterday at the University grounds, Mt. Tolmie, the mainland securing an overwhelming victory, taking back with them the Flumerfelt trophy. Always the most interesting fixture in the Western cricket programme the intercity game was watched in keen spirit by a large number of spectators.

The Mainlanders certainly were represented in their best available strength, while the Islanders were unfortunate in losing Sparks, the innings star, owing to an accident in a previous match. George Wilkinson, the Victoria club bowler and the accident that befell F. L. Watson, during the game, sustaining a broken nose by a rising ball behind the wickets, Dr. Hudson, who was on the grounds, attending to the injured cricketer.

VANCOUVER ISLAND

The game commenced at 10:30. Major Cobbett, Victoria's skipper, winning the toss and electing to bat. Watson and A. W. Cocks faced Rivers at the city and Peters at the pavilion end, neither could do much with Rivers, who bowled throughout the innings superbly, and had the following excellent figures:

10 6 25

Rivers's bowling and his splendid batting effort, 53, top score for his side, were no doubt in the main the means of the complete discomfiture of the Island players. Both Watson and Cocks were bowled, the former by Rivers, the latter by Peters, the only wicket he took for the day. Wenman, when the score stood for less than 20, succeeded Watson, and it was soon seen that "Reggie" was out to make a score and soon settled down to contribute a useful score of 19 which included a beautiful drive for six. Percy Broadfoot was here fielding splendidly as he indeed did throughout the day. Wenman was soon, however, bowled by Rivers, and J. H. Gillespie now succeeded Wenman for a time things looked better for Victoria, but Rivers also got "Heb" for a well-played total of 32. G. C. Grant fared no better, and he, too, went down before the C.P.R. club bowler with five only to his cricket. H. R. H. Cobbett, new came in, and for a time it looked like a big score for the major, whose first hit was a three off the unplayable Rivers, but Brownfoot stopped his ambitions by bringing off a beautiful catch off Tommy Reid who was now bowling at the pavilion end and Victoria's skipper had to be content with 15.

Leggatt, one of Cowichan's stars, now came in, but he was soon disposed of by Bob Eaton-Shore in the slips to a ball by Rivers, after which the "telegraph" board, Eric Quinlan succeeded Leggatt, who in carrying out his bat for three runs saw the giant, Dobbie, get a "duck" caught by Vancouver's skipper off Rivers and Fredin and A. Lea, both obtaining a cipher each, the former out to another good catch by Eaton-Shore.

Victoria Swimmers Beaten In Canadian Championship Gala

Audrey Griffin Loses to Retta Tingley in Both 100 and 200-Yard Events

Tommy Wellburn Also Fails to Win; Bayley, Hills and Cameron Get Titles

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Four Canadian championships, feature of a most attractive programme of the Vancouver Swimming Club annual Labor Day Gala at English Bay, Monday afternoon, were captured by Vancouver swimmers after some intensely exciting competition with Victoria's best.

Johnny Bayley, speediest of the local watermen, took the 220 yards free style after a most gruelling race. Chuck Hills showed the class in the 220 yards breaststroke. Johnny Cameron won all the way in the 500 yards open water, and demonstrated that he is in a class by himself among British Columbia swimmers in long distance events. He beat B. Buller by nearly 100 yards.

The big surprise of the day was the clean-cut victory of Retta Tingley, seventeen-year-old girl of the Vancouver club, over Audrey Griffin of Victoria in the 200 yards free style women's event. The two raced neck and neck until the last turn, when the local girl sprinted, and just had the speed to win one of the most exciting races of the afternoon. Miss Tingley demonstrated that her victory was no fluke by repeating in the 100 yards shortly afterwards, when she came from behind to win on the last lap by a touch after another spirited contest with the Victoria star.

Tommy Wellburn of Victoria gave Johnny Bayley a great battle in the gruelling 220 yards racing neck and neck with him for about seven laps, but fell back under the terrific pace, and could not do any better than fourth, when Johnny Cameron came from behind to take second in a sensational burst of speed. Bayley also captured the fifty yards free style, giving his best demonstration in the first heat, when he was left at the post, and then won. He annexed the 100 yards free style with Wellburn just a few feet behind.

The results were:

CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Dempsey's Nose is Intact After Two Fights Yesterday

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—William Harrison Dempsey's new modeled Grecian nose was still intact to-day after his reappearance in a ring here yesterday. The short exhibition boxing matches. Neither Mr. Dempsey's nose nor his ring reputation was ever in jeopardy from either of his opponents, Bill Larr, carrying considerable weight, was satisfied with two left hooks to the midriff, and "Cowboy" Warner gave Dempsey opportunity to do the graceful thing by helping him to his feet after each short left to the chin.

A trifle more than 15,000 persons paid admission chiefly to the heavy-weight champion in action and examine critically his physical condition.

WON PIKE'S PEAK CLIMB

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 8.—Persistence won fame for C. H. (Chuck) Myers, a young Colorado Springs mechanic, in the annual Pike's Peak climb here yesterday, when he outdid a field of experienced automobile racers and flashed victoriously across the finish line at the summit of the mountains.

GREAT RIDERS

"CHUCK" STAPLES, VICTORIA, LEFT AND JIM DAVIES, VANCOUVER. In the fifteen-mile race at Beacon Hill yesterday these old rivals waged another hard fight for the Moody Cup. They will have to ride the distance later to decide the winner, owing to a confusion over their times.

Alexa Stirling Leads In Ladies' Close Tournament

Turns in Best Score in Qualifying Round of Canadian Championship at Ottawa

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Mrs. W. G. Fraser of the Royal Ottawa Club, better known in the golfing world as "Miss Alexa Stirling," former United States and Canadian ladies' golf champion, signaled her return to the game in a competitive sense after an absence of two years by turning in the best gross score in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the fourth annual Canadian ladies' close golf championship at the River Road Club yesterday. Mrs. Fraser will not continue in the tournament during the rest of the week but entered solely to help her club in the team event. She shot a 77, two under par and her record showed that she is back in the form of several seasons ago and she is ready for the Canadian ladies' golf championship, which she won in 1923.

Miss Ada Mackenzie, of the Toronto Misses' Club, was second with 83. Mrs. Mussen, of Mount Bruno, obtained possession of the cup presented last year by the British Ladies' Golfing Union for the best net score when a handicap of 22 enabled her to beat out Mrs. Donald Reid, Thornhill, and Miss Murray, of Lumbton, who had a net 75.

The Royal Ottawa Club led by Mrs. Fraser, won the team prize which had been won in the previous three tournaments by the Toronto Golf Club.

Mrs. Irene Bridges, of St. Charles Club, Winnipeg, the only Western player, won the twenty-seventh place in the qualifying round with a score of 100. To-day the first round in all flights will be played, while to-morrow there will be two rounds.

CROWDS WATCH VET SWIM NIAGARA JUST BELOW CRUEL FALLS

Toronto, Sept. 8.—William Hill, veteran riverman, swam across the Niagara River, just below the Falls Sunday afternoon. He made the trip of a little more than half a mile in eleven minutes. This is claimed to be the first time the trip has ever been publicly accomplished by a swimmer.

Great crowds on both banks of the river watched the swimmer's progress. Hill has been a riverman since his youth, and is now forty.

Canadian Marksmen Win International Match From States

Lieut. Burke Made Highest Score on Canadian Team With Total of 222 Points

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—The Canadian rifle team returned yesterday from Camp Perry, Ohio, where they competed on Saturday in the second half of the international rifle shooting competition between teams representing Canada and the United States. The Canadian team won the round by fifteen points, having defeated the United States team on Connaught Ranges here in August, 1924, by forty points, but lost Saturday's match by twenty-five points.

The shoot was one of the most interesting of all previous contests between the teams from those countries and resulted in both teams breaking the existing records. The Canadian team made the highest score ever made by a team from those countries and were heartily congratulated on their showing, particularly in view of their using United States rifles and ammunition, with which they were not familiar.

Cuba also took part, shooting against the United States for the Palma Trophy. The scores were: United States, 1,770; Canada, 1,745; Cuba, 1,715.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, Ottawa, made the highest score on the Canadian team, 222 points, and the average for the eight men was 213 out of 225.

BALL PLAYER KILLED

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 8.—Louis Chedo Decatur Three-1 League pitcher who was hit on the head with a pitched ball yesterday at Evansville by Elmer Gray, a former Decatur hurler, died this morning.

Chedo is the second Decatur hurler to die since last season, Jim Dushinsky having been shot to death in Honolulu last winter.

Washington Just Galloping Away From Athletics

Philadelphia Lose 12 Straight Games and Are Nine Full Games Behind

Pirates Break Even in Double-Header, While Giants Were Idle Through Rain

New York, Sept. 8.—From a spring for the championship, the American League pennant race within two weeks has turned into a triumphant Washington march. The dazed Athletics now trail in the dust of twelve straight defeats, nine full games behind the leaders.

The Pirates, riding in front of the Giants with a lead of eight and a half games, maintained their advantage by splitting with the Cubs. The Corsairs outbatted their foes in a morning hit-fest 8-5, a total of thirty-two safeties being amassed by the two clubs, but in the afternoon the Cubs made sixteen hits and won 9-5.

TIGERS HOLD ON

The Tigers obtained a toe-hold on fourth place in the American League by winning from the Browns 7-4 in the morning, but they lost the afternoon game 4-3 in eleven innings.

The White Sox and Cleveland also divided their double-header. Cleveland won the first 6-3 and losing the second 8-5.

Rain reduced the Red Sox-Yankees bill in Boston to one game, which the Bostonians won 1-1.

Double-headers between the Giants and Braves and the Robins and Phillies in the National were postponed by rain.

St. Louis held its own in a three-cornered fight with Brooklyn and Boston for fourth place by beating Cincinnati 5-1, after losing the morning game 8-6. Hornsby made his thirty-sixth homer.

VETS HOLD WORKOUTS

The Veterans' football club will hold two workouts this week, the first to be held this evening at the Veterans of France clubrooms and the second on Thursday night. Both will commence at 7 o'clock. All players are requested to turn out.

Dominion Soccer Meets In Vancouver To-day

First Time Gathering Has Been Held in This Province; Delegates Welcomed

Vancouver, Sept. 7.—Appointment of Sam Davidson as permanent secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Football Association was the outstanding recommendation in the annual report of President John Easton, read at the opening session of the annual meeting here yesterday.

Mr. Easton declared it unwise, in his opinion, for a secretary to be forced to come to each annual meeting, not knowing what the future held for him or if his efforts were to be appreciated.

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—With a record attendance of council members and delegates representing every province in the Dominion, the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Football Association, the first gathering of its kind to be held in Vancouver, opened here Monday. There were twenty-three council members and delegates registered, and the leadership of the association was taken by Winnipeg, while J. H. Simpson of Seattle represented the United States Football Association.

Following registration, the delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor L. D. Taylor and by President C. G. Callin of the British Columbia association.

After attending a civic luncheon, and the opening game of the local football season, a business session was held late in the day. Routine business was dealt with, including the passing of the association's minutes of the last meeting, the presentation of the president's and secretary's reports, and the financial statements, which showed the past year to have been one of substantial progress, and a balance in hand of over $6,000.

PASSED MATTERS ALONG

Several matters, including correspondence dealing with the affiliation of the Dominion body with the English Football Association and a protest from the Montreal Brotherhood Federation against the playing of football in Quebec on Sunday, were passed to the executive council to report upon later.

At night, the visitors attended a banquet tendered by the Lower Mainland Football Association.

The B.C. Junior "A" sent in a protest against the B.C.F.A. affiliating St. Andrew's Excelsiors and the Wallabies as senior teams, without their having passed through the two lower grades of football and asking that the affiliations be cancelled. This communication was replied to stating that the D.F.A. did not see where they could interfere with the provincial body's action.

Moody's Old Mark Is Cut By Ten Minutes

Jim Davies, of Vancouver, Circles Beacon Hill Fifteen Times in 36 Minutes, 51 Seconds; Davies and Staples Must Race Again to Determine Holder of Moody Cup; Basil Peden, of Victoria, Wins Handicap Race

Exactly ten minutes was sliced off the ancient record of Dr. Glendon Moody for the fifteen-mile race at Beacon Hill yesterday morning by Jim Davies, of Vancouver, P. N. W. bicycle champion. Davies circled the mile track fifteen times in 36 minutes 51 seconds. Moody's time made in April, 1896, on a solid tire bicycle, was 46 minutes 51 seconds.

Back in the early days of this city cycle racing was a great sport and, despite the fact that the riders had to mount themselves upon ancient models, they attained surprising speed. One of the features of the cycle season was the fifteen-mile race around Beacon Hill. Dr. Moody was one of the leading cyclists in those days, and his record, established in 1896, was hailed far and wide. With the advent of the motor car bike-riding lost in popularity, but of late it has been revived, due greatly to the Victoria Cycle Club and other organizations. In order to help along the revival Dr. Moody offered a cup for an annual fifteen-mile race around Beacon Hill. The event was inaugurated yesterday before a huge crowd and a splendid field of Vancouver and Victoria riders entered.

CONFUSION IN TIME

Although Jim Davies has been given credit for breaking Moody's record he did not come into possession of the Moody Cup through the fact that the time of "Chuck" Staples, the Victoria champion, was not officially recorded. At a meeting of officials of the B.C. Cycle Association held last night it was decided to have Davies and Staples race again over fifteen miles at Beacon Hill, and the winner take possession of the cup.

The confusion occurred owing to the fact that a handicap race was run at the same time as the contest for the Moody Cup, which was a scratch affair. The riders were sent away from the starting line according to their handicaps. Davies was the scratch man in the handicap race, Staples having a thirty-second handicap. When Staples crossed the finishing line ahead of Davies it was thought that he had won the Moody Cup, but the time-keepers became confused on the times, and as a result it was impossible to announce a decision. A date will be set for these two famous riders to compete over the fifteen-mile course again.

LOCAL BOY WINS

In the handicap event Basil Peden of Victoria, won. Davies of Vancouver was second, and Chuck McPherson of Victoria, was third. B. Wood, Vancouver, was fourth, and B. Mulhern, Vancouver, fifth.

The track at Beacon Hill proved very suitable for the race, and it is possible that more cycle events will be staged there in the future. The police kept the track well clear, and the riding and every chance to show their speed.

Lacrosse Match Ends In a Real Free-for-all

Fans and Players Joined in Free Fight Just Before End of the Senior Match Between Capitols and Vancouver at Royal Athletic Park Yesterday; Four Players Pick on "Allie" McGregor; Vancouver Won Both Games Easily

Vancouver lacrosse teams carried off both exhibition matches against the Victoria Capitols and Sons of Canada, local senior and intermediate champions respectively, played yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. In the senior game the Mainlanders were leading by 8-2 until four minutes from time when two players were sent off the field, but before they had reached the bench a fight ensued. It ended in a free-for-all between players and spectators and the game could not be resumed. In the intermediate battle the visitors scored an easy victory, trouncing the Sons by the overwhelming score of 9-1.

One of the largest crowds that has witnessed a lacrosse game in this city was in evidence when the Vancouver teams represented Richmond district.

With the senior game nearing an end "Allie" McGregor and McKinley of Vancouver were banished from the field for the remainder of the game, and as they were walking off the visiting player roused "Allie" with some foul language, and he immediately dropped his stick and let go with his fists. Four Vancouver players picked on McGregor, and while two held him another one hit him, sticks flying everywhere. The game was not resumed, it being called off by Referee Frank Smith. Outside of this one incident the games were very close.

In the first period of the senior match the play was very even, and Vancouver scored once, while they held the Capitals scoreless. Vancouver added two more goals in the second quarter, while McGregor scored Victoria's first goal on a pass from "Cotton" Brynjolfsson.

Three more goals were scored by Vancouver in the third quarter, while the Capitals tallied once, McGregor scoring his second goal from behind the net.

Vancouver added two more goals in the last quarter, while Victoria failed to find the net. The game proceeded along until four minutes from time when the fight occurred. Although the score of 3-1 denotes an easy victory for Vancouver in the intermediate match, such was not the case, as the game was hardly fought from start to finish. Very little dirty play was seen.

At the end of the first period the teams were even at one, but when the second period finished the mainlanders were on the long end of a 6-1 score, the Vancouver stickhandlers finding it hard to work through the Victoria defence.

Vancouver scored two more goals in the third period, and ended up by adding two more in the final frame. The return games will be played in Vancouver next Saturday afternoon.

UPLANDS LADIES' GOLF

The ladies of the Uplands Golf Club are to resume their monthly medal competitions, the first of which will be held on Saturday, September 12. All entries must be by 5 o'clock on Thursday.

"A SON OF HIS FATHER" IS LATEST BEST WESTERN STORY OF MODERN SCREEN

Victor Fleming-Paramount Production From Novel by Harold Bell Wright Showing Here With Bessie Love in Lead.

A story based upon fact and photographed upon the scene of its actual happening with many of the real characters taking part is Harold Bell Wright's "A Son of His Father," a Victor Fleming-Paramount production which is now being shown at the Dominion.

In Harold Bell Wright's country near Tucson, Arizona, it is said that several years ago an incident similar to the plot of the story actually took place. From this Mr. Wright obtained the theme for his novel.

To film the story in keeping with its atmosphere, Paramount dispatched an entire company of almost two hundred persons to a location seventy miles from Tucson, Arizona, and but a few miles from the Mexican border. Not far from this location the real incident occurred.

is the fascinating one of the changing West and concerns a desperate uphill battle against invading smugglers who attempt to gain possession of a ranch. Many of the extra players engaged on the location actually took part in the real encounter between the ranchmen and the smugglers.

Featured players in the production are Bessie Love, Warner Baxter and Raymond Hatton. The story was adapted for the screen by Anthony Colclough. Walter McGrath heads the supporting cast which includes Charles Stevens, Carl Stockdale, Billy Eugene, James Farley, Valentina Zelnina, and George Kuwa.

There's heart interest and comedy mixed with the thrills in this great "western" of them all—the first Harold Bell Wright story made into a Paramount picture. And it's done in real Paramount style!

The produce of the best of heads is often defeated by the best of hearts. —Felding.

Broadway Play Season Opens With Producer Apologizing For Show and Dropping It

New York, Sept. 8.—Before settling down to describe two new shows which seem entitled to prosperity above the average, the order of importance suggests mention of another which in technical language was a " flop."

Just a day or two after this opening, the play critics in New York received a formal printed announcement which said: "Edgar Selwyn apologizes for 'Something to Bring About' and begs to announce its withdrawal from the Booth Theatre this evening."

That is a frank and decent thing to do. The audience in most cases take care of shows for which apologies are due and they are withdrawn with little delay. But such an admission from a producer is as unusual as it is encouraging. If more of them would follow this example, playing in New York would become a tremendously more pleasurable pastime and ticket buyers would show a great deal more confidence in the notices they read.

TWO GOOD ONES

The new offerings which promise success are "The Family Upstairs," which is not extravagant praise. Its author is Harry Delf, vaudeville dancer and monologist who knows plenty of practical theatrical tricks and uses them abundantly in shaping this new work.

"The Family Upstairs" is the best play brought out so far this season. It is a domestic comedy set in a Bronx flat, and the big Shubert revue, "Gay Paree."

The family problem is 21-year-old Louise who isn't married yet. And so when Louise brings home a slick young bank clerk, there is an over-energetic blundering to impress him which nearly breaks up the match. Ruth Nugent reaches some real dramatic heights as the daughter. Walter Wilson is the street-car conductor father, and Harold Elliott is the young man who comes courting. In most of the acting is a tendency to over-emphasize and come down upon all the points violently with both feet.

SOMETHING LOVELY

"Gay Paree" is not so good as the superb new "Artists and Models" but it is rich and varied entertainment.

Chic Sale is the principal comedian and makes certainly the best moments of the evening. Vaudeville audiences from here to the Pacific coast will remember the droll rusticity which he uses with surprising effect. Winnie Lightner is the skit comic, and for those who like her tomboyish style there is abundant comfort in her appearances. The other featured names include Billie B. Van, George LeMarie, Eddie Conrad, Richard Bold, Margaret Wilson and Florence Fair.

The ensemble is large, pretty, spirited and frequently undressed. It is as undressed, in fact, as the most imaginative reach toward "Gay Paree" could suggest.

POPULAR VOCALIST IS AT CAPITOL ALL THIS WEEK

This week, as an added attraction, the management of the Capitol Theatre are presenting Miss Belle McEwan, Vancouver's popular soprano. Miss McEwan is well-known to Victoria music lovers, and her engagement here will be welcomed as a distinct musical treat. She will be heard singing "The Slav Song" and the ever popular number "I Passed By Your Window."

"The Miracle Man" Wonderful Film Now at Playhouse

Dramatic Story of White-Haired Patriarch of the Hills Unusual Feature

"The Miracle Man" opened at the Playhouse Theatre last evening for a week's run.

George Loane Tucker, its producer, has directed, and proved his right to be numbered among the elect. He has handled the striking story with the touch of genius. The picture is based on the famous story by Frank L. Packard, which subsequently was dramatized by George M. Cohan with great success. The adroitness with which Mr. Tucker has worked on a tremendous theme, and his handling of exquisitely beautiful scenic effects, raises "The Miracle Man" far above ordinary feature pictures.

The story centres around a white-haired patriarch of the hills who is credited with power to heal the sick and crippled. Now, of his prowess reaches Tom Burke, leader of the unscrupulous band of crooks in New York's Chinatown. He conceives the idea of using the healer for commercial purposes and taking the proceeds for himself and his pals, Rose, the Dope and the Frog.

The day of miracles has not passed, said people when the gallows three times failed to hang John Lee, convicted on circumstantial evidence of the murder of Miss Emma Koyes, of Abbotswell, near Torquay, England, formerly maid of honor to the late Queen Victoria. When the second attempt had been made to hang Lee, two bags of sand of the same weight as the prisoner were placed on the drop, and it worked successfully. Yet it failed to open when Lee was placed on it immediately afterwards. So they kept him in prison for twenty-three years. After his release a woman on her deathbed confessed to the murder. Lee is still living.

The story has been visualized into a most remarkable film which is concluding a world tour. It will be presented, with the aid of English artists, at the Columbia theatre the last three days of this week.

NEW AUTO SCHEME

Binghamton, N.Y., Sept. 8.—In an effort to promote careful driving and courtesy among local motorists, a Binghamton paper is carrying out an arrangement with the police department by which the traffic officers report each day the license numbers of five drivers seen operating their cars with notable care. The numbers are published in the paper the next day, with a reward awaiting the drivers if they identify themselves at the newspaper office.

Comedy "Ebenzer" Creating Laughter At Coliseum Here

Paramount Picture "Too Many Kisses" is Film Feature This Week

The Coliseum, the riotous comedy "Ebenzer" on the boards, and the Paramount "Too Many Kisses" on the silver screen.

"Ebenzer" is a great comedy, crowded with laughs. The company is augmented this week by George Olsen, Will Marshall and George Brydon make the comedy fast and furious. Eva Hart, Eileen Allwood, Van-Gie Reilly and Ruth Hamilton contribute in an equal measure to the success. The story of the professor who steals away to a prize fight which is raided, of the young drummer who accompanies him home and disguises himself to escape the police in the clothes of the bishop who is expected at the home, is one that gives the whole company an opportunity to win laughs.

The little Basque village of Touzaine in the Pyrenees is the scene of Richard Dix's new Paramount picture, "Too Many Kisses."

The story, which opens in a mining office in New York City, was directed for the screen by Paul Sloane from an adaptation of John Monk Saunders' Cosmopolitan Magazine serial, "A Maker of Gestures."

Frances Howard plays Yvonne and William Powell is cast as the villainous Captain Julio.

WILLIAM FOX VERSION OF "LIGHTNIN'" TRIUMPH FOR PRODUCER AND DIRECTOR

John Ford, Maker of "The Iron Horse," Again Scores With Photoplay Adaption of John Golden's Stage Success.

"Lightnin'" opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday for a six-day run. A cast of all-star proportions presents this picture, with John Ford, famous for his "The Iron Horse," directing. Chief interest in "Lightnin'," of course, attaches to the man who was chosen to play the title role. Frank Bacon had set such a high standard on the stage for his creation of the lovable old character that it was thought impossible to find his counterpart for the film version. But William Fox has succeeded by giving us Jay Hunt, for Mr. Hunt in every way is a worthy successor to the beloved Frank Bacon. In the first place, he resembles Bacon strikingly; and, added to that, he can act. What a wealth of pathos he puts into his characterization; and what whimsical humor he lends it in the lighter moments of the story!

Madge Bellamy, she of the soulful eyes, is the heroine of the romance that runs parallel to the story of "Lightnin'" Bill Jones and his wife Miss Bellamy never appeared to better advantage than in the role of Millie Jones, and she gained new admirers last night by her work.

Wallace McDonald as her sweetheart proves himself a fitting Romeo. Edythe Chapman as "Mother" Jones, is delightful. She is one of the best-loved character women of the screen, and her high reputation has been gained in just such roles as the one she has in this picture.

The story of "Lightnin'" concerns the fortunes of Bill Jones and his wife in the management of the California Hotel, a hostelry situated conveniently half in California and half in Nevada.

It is the redeeming quality of love that really brings happiness once more to "Lightnin'" and his patient old wife. The courtroom scene between Jay Hunt and Edythe Chapman is one of the most affecting ever filmed.

Otis Harlan must not be forgotten for his delightful portrayal of Zeb, the village drunkard. James Marcus also does his part as sheriff.

FIRST ANNUAL PRINTERS' PICNIC HUGE SUCCESS

Baseball Game and Races
Were Features of the Day

If ever it could be said: "everything worked together for good," it was certainly the case yesterday, when the Printers' Picnic took place at Rodd Hill.

The weather was ideal and not all "piled" up, as it might have been. Almost every man who ever drove out a stuck slug from a cantankerous linotype mould, put a border around a page ad, or threw a fit when he was called anything but the "corrector of the press" was on hand, with his wife and children, to do his best to capture every prize possible.

Great credit was due to F. Neelands, who was in charge of the sports, and to his assistants, A. W. Stokes, starter and Roy Shields, announcer.

The King's Printer, Charles F. Banfield, former secretary of No. 201, and Harold Diggon, formerly president, kindly assisted by holding the tapes, announcing the winners and awarding the prizes at the close of the day.

A short address was given by Munroe Miller, an old time printer, who compared the old-time methods of printing with those of to-day. The ball game was interesting and "fairly faultless" proofreaders were on hand to mark the errors, but were refused admittance to the grounds. Captain Sidney Jenkins arranged his team and then placed the mask over his face to shut out the scene from his eyes. Wallace was the choice for twirler, for the Times team, but was removed in the third inning by Manager Colton, so that his strength might be conserved for the tug of war, later.

Roy Shields, the second string pitcher, who took his place, held the opposing batsmen, but his arm was so weak at the end of the game that he was not able to take part in the tug-of-war. However he mistook a cap pistol for the starter's gun and won the fat man's race.

Bob Marshall of the Colonist team, had his eye on the ball every time, but his direction was bad, and he escaped the perils of running the bases, which accounted for him coming in second in the fat men's race. If ever a dark horse won, it was

The Times baseball team. Everything was set for a Colonist win. Had practices not been taking place every afternoon, while the Times team were busy getting the paper out? Had not the congenial secretary-treasurer of the committee held out that the most expensive prizes should go to the winners of the ball team?

While feeling confident that the Times representatives would annex most of the other prizes, including the tombola, the chairman graciously consented and all was set for the Colonist boosters to have a good time, when the sun shone so bright, that the team, which are usually working in the dark could not see the ball and the Times reluctantly walked off the field with the prizes.

The line-up was as follows: Times—S. Jenkins, c.; P. B. Wallace and R. Shields, lb.; L. Colton; B. B. Wallace and R. Shields, ss.

E. Wells; 3b. C. Macdonald; 1f. J. Eastick; cf. H. Walker; r.f. F. Willmore.

The Colonist—W. Spencer, c.; P. F. Caldwell and W. Ozard; lb. Ozard and Caldwell; 2b. Anderson; 3b. Fairfull; ss. Corbett; 1f. Clark; cf. Dunn; r.f. Marshall, Chapman.

K. D. Adams made an excellent umpire.

The tug-of-war, which was between the news men and job printers, was won by the newspaper men, they having more "pull."

Where the Colonist was exceptionally strong was at the golf-putting contest, F. Caldwell winning the first prize and Mrs. Hibbertson the first ladies' prize.

Mathison and Joe Hibbertson handled this game in a very able manner. The colors of the different offices were conspicuous, the Colonist and the job shops wearing elaborate badges of blue and white and of gold respectively. While the Times were very modest with their ribbon, their colors of pink and green were much in evidence after almost every event, their representatives being tickled "pink" while their opponents were "green" with envy.

The committee wish to thank the officials in charge of the Rodd Hill grounds for the privileges granted to them, as well as to Sergeant Buxton who by kindly acts assisted the committee wonderfully. They also wish to acknowledge, with thanks, the donations given by The Times, The Colonist, Sweeney-McCormick Press, Diggon's, Acme Press, Quality Press, Greenwood's Press, and H. B. McDowell. To the Police Department for the use of the tug-of-war rope; to Feden's for the megaphone.

Besides those already mentioned great credit is due to R. Borde and P. Wyatt for their energetic efforts. Mr. W. Worth handled the crowds in an excellent manner and his launch services from the Da' wharf was all that could have been desired.

The winners of the prizes were as follows:

Tombola—1. Mrs. R. Shields; 2. Mrs. F. Grant; Mrs. C. Johnson; Mrs. Patterson; Mrs. Marshall; Miss Somersetville; Miss Dunn; Mr. DeGracy and Mrs. Hibbertson.

Mixed race, six years and under—1. Enid Bates; 2. Patsy Borde.

Boys' race, eight and under—1. Billy Buxton; 2. James Drysdale.

Girls, eight and under—1. Frances Borde; 2. Josephine Tobin.

Boys' race, eleven and under—1. Fred Stokes; 2. Gordon Johnson; 3. Leonard Hibbertson.

Boys' race, fourteen and under—1. Broadfoot, and secured the requisite number without the loss of a wicket.

The umpires were Charles Davey for Vancouver, and Capt. Coley for the Islanders, while Roy Leigh officiated as scorer for Vancouver, and Jesse Longfield for Victoria.

Dr. Boulton presented the Flumer-fell Cup to Tommy Reed, captain of the Mainland eleven.

Vancouver, Sept. 8—Deadly bowling by the Cornett brothers gave the Vancouver Wednesday League "rep" team victory over the Victoria Mid-Week League, the scores being:

First Innings—Victoria 74; Vancouver 177.
Winning the toss, and batting first, the Islanders could only manage a meagre total of 74. J. D. Cornett taking seven wickets for 40 runs, and his brother three for 32. Both bowlers kept a magnificent length, and kept the ball coming off the pitch in a manner that puzzled the batsmen.

The local team did not commence their batting efforts in a convincing manner, and lost the first five wickets cheaply.

The Islanders did much better in their second attempt, and hit up 180 for the loss of four wickets. Ward came through with a valuable 41, not out, in the Mainlanders' second inning.

Coronach Wins
Doncaster, Sept. 8—Coronach, starting at 3-4 against, won the Champagne Stakes this afternoon with Apple Sammy, 3-1 against second, and Review Order, 1-1 third. The Champagne Stakes is one of the turf's principal two-year-old races, and is the feature of the annual

Upsets Featured Saturday's O.C. Football Results

West Bromwich Lost at Home to Sunderland, Who Still Lead

London, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press Cable)—League football Saturday was featured by considerable upsetting of form both south and north of the border. In a number of cases the outcome of the game totally violated all logical predictions and none more so than that West Bromwich would be defeated on their own grounds by Sunderland, that Leicester should drop their contest to Burnley, that Arsenal should beat Manchester United and that nine goals should be registered in the game between Newcastle and Notts County with a margin of three in favor of the Tynesiders. The uncertainty of league football was never better demonstrated.

Cold weather spoiled attendances. The aggregate of the forty-four big league games was about six hundred thousand as compared with the million mark a week ago. Rain prevented larger gates.

Play was marked by heavy scoring, the new outside rule bringing about faster play. Of the eleven First Division games, five resulted in wins for the home teams, only two, that between Liverpool and West Ham and the game with Leeds United and Aston Villa were drawn, while four visiting clubs gathered full points.

The end of the second week sees Sunderland leading the First Division; Chelsea the Second; Plymouth Third, Southern, and Bradford Third, Northern.

London, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press Cable)—Results of Old Country football yesterday:

FIRST DIVISION
Aston Villa 2, Manchester United 1
Bolton 1, Leeds United 0
Burnley 0, Notts County 0
Cardiff City 0, West Ham 1
Leicester City 0, Arsenal 1
Tottenham 2, Sheffield United 2

SECOND DIVISION
Blackpool 2, Middlesbrough 2
Bradford City 4, Barnsley 1
Chelsea 0, Notts Forest 0
Hull City 4, Southampton 0
Oldham 1, Wednesday 1
South Shields 3, Wolverhampton 1
Stoke 0, Port Vale 0

THIRD DIVISION
Southern Section
Aberdare 1, Millwall 2
Brentford 1, South End 3
Northern Section
Chesterfield 1, Bradford 1
Crewe 2, Doncaster 2
Lincoln 2, Hartlepool 1
Lincoln 3, Southport 0
Walsall 1, Grimsby 1

RUGBY LEAGUE
Rochdale 4, Barrow 1
Huddersfield 5, Warrington 16
Swindon 32, Halifax 5

dian location is in itself something of a marvel.

The main romantic thread is developed between Anna Q. Nilsson and Ben Lyon—a countess of the wild trails and her infatuated packer. A love story quite as compelling as that between Viola Dana and Victor McLaglen.

Out of the ruck of passions and tempestuous happenings, the role of "Poleon Dore" is made to stand out mounting vivid and fine by McLaglen.

This picture is distinctly a feather in Lloyd's and First National's cap.

Mixed Foursome Won By Jack Matson and Miss Marion Wilson

Jack Matson and Miss Marion Wilson won the mixed foursome match staged at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday. The winners had a net score of 47. A. G. Milbank and Mrs. Philbrick were second with a score of 70.

Eighteen couples entered the competition.

The results with the gross and net scores, along with the handicaps, were as follows:

Jack Matson and Miss Marion Wilson gross 82, net handicap 16, net 66.
A. G. Milbank and Mrs. Philbrick gross 84, net handicap 14, net 70.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Boyd, gross 98, net handicap 24, net 74.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Heisterman, gross 94, net handicap 19, net 75.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, gross 95, net handicap 21, net 76.
Mr. and Mrs. H. Swinton and Miss I. Wilson, gross 92, net handicap 17, net 75.

L. H. Hardie and Mrs. Godfrey, gross 91, net handicap 13, net 78.
Jude, Lampan and Mrs. Perry, gross 91, net handicap 13, net 78.
Sir Frank and Lady Barnard, gross 106, net handicap 24, net 79.

"Winds of Chance" Best Rex Beach Film And New York's First

New York, Sept. 8.—Rex Beach has not had better movie treatment of any of his pictures than the Frank Lloyd production of his "Winds of Chance" for First National.

It is a fine screening of adventure in a gorgeous setting on a grand scale, with no studio sets to cramp Lloyd's style and Beach's sweeping melodrama of Alaska's early gold rush.

With ten reels of film, there is plenty of time to absorb each of the many major episodes involving a complicated romance and the perils of "snow trail" and "White Horse" rapids. Besides the imposing list of principals, there are the play over 2,000 extra people, including many original gold rush soundboughs.

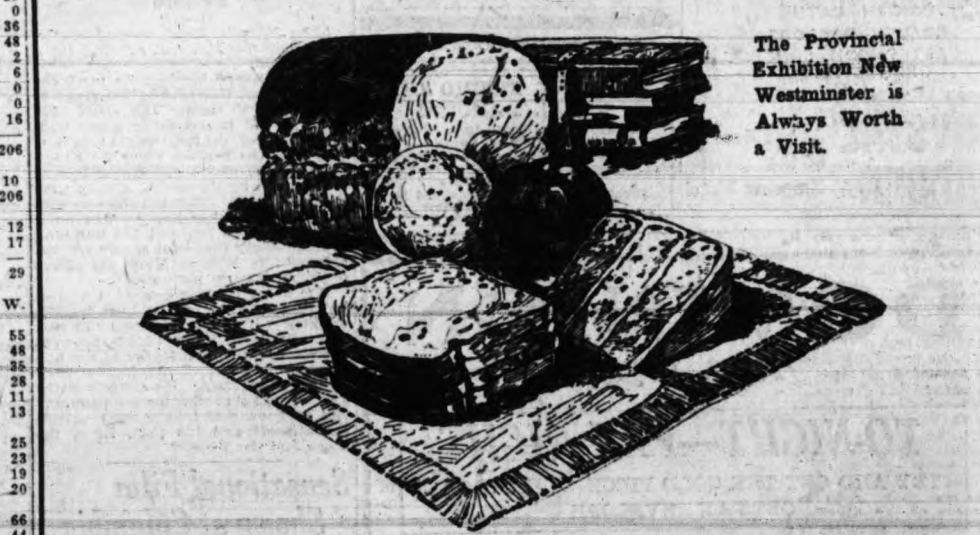

The very number of players threatened at times to overwhelm the dramatic push of the story, and comedy frequently challenges the heavier drama for standing room.

And the technical feat of encompassing the story in a rigorous Canadian location is in itself something of a marvel.

The main romantic thread is developed between Anna Q. Nilsson and Ben Lyon—a countess of the wild trails and her infatuated packer. A love story quite as compelling as that between Viola Dana and Victor McLaglen.

Out of the ruck of passions and tempestuous happenings, the role of "Poleon Dore" is made to stand out mounting vivid and fine by McLaglen.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

"HEARTS ADRIFT"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

It was at that moment, when her heart, long untouched except by her passion for Cartwright, was almost beginning to feel something deep and sweet, if only for a passing moment, that Patricia's rap had come at the door.

In a flash she was the old Madge, reckless, defiant, unreasoning. Her first words to Patricia were cold and cutting: "Well, what do you want?"

THE ALTERNATIVE

To Madge's defiant: "Well? What do you want?" Patricia came into the room, closed the door quietly and held out her arms to Madge, saying: "You poor child!" she said softly, pityingly.

Madge raised her head with the old, arrogant gesture.

"Why have you come here? Why do you want to meddle with something that's none of your business?"

"Madge darling," Patricia soothed her as she would a child, "it is my business. You think I can sit idly by and see the friend I love wreck herself and her life forever?"

"Ha!" Madge's exclamation was scornful. "It's a good excuse for being a busybody. Let me tell you something: I am going to find life, real life, for the first time. No more dreamy existence! Listen—I am going away with Stanley Cartwright to-morrow and you can do what you please about it."

"I know that," Patricia said in the morning.

Madge was considerably taken aback.

"How did you know that?"

"Never mind. I found out just the same. And Mr. Cartwright verified my knowledge only a short time ago."

"You have seen him?" Madge was incredulous.

"At his hotel. It was he who told me where you were stopping."

Madge sank into a chair.

"Well, of all things!" she murmured.

After a moment she sprang up, her eyes flashing.

"Well, now that you know, you can leave! There is nothing you can do about it. Understand that! Stanley and I love each other. That fool of a wife of his refuses to free him so that he can marry me. No more of this taking things into our own hands. We'll force her to it. You'll see."

Madge's voice had risen with fury when she spoke of Alma Cartwright. Patricia glanced apprehensively at the slightly opened transom above the door, but Madge, following her gaze, only laughed scornfully.

"Oh, don't bother about that! What if somebody does overhear us? All the world will know soon enough."

Patricia nodded.

"Yes, all the world will know. Madge," she echoed sadly. "Have you realized the consequences of what that? You who have always had the world at your feet with admiration? Have you counted the cost of seeing it turn from you with scorn and disgust?"

"Nonsense!" Madge shrugged. "You're foolishly conventional. There's a world outside the silly, narrow one we lived in at home. It's the real world. It understands. It demands only that one is clever and charming and quick. Stanley and I have gone very thoroughly into that question."

Patricia made a weary gesture.

"I think you must be mad. Your passion for Cartwright has turned your head. You reason like a child fed up on silly novels. Madge, surely you are a woman."

"For the first time in my life—yes!" Madge declared passionately. "I have been a child, playing with silly toys, trying to amuse myself, to keep myself from being bored. Then Stanley came into my life and I knew why I was created. I love him. I tell you. He's the only thing in my life that counts. Home, husband, friends, family, all can go, if I can have him."

Patricia, looking at her sadly, knew that she meant it. For once in her life, Madge was deadly serious.

"Very well," she said quietly. "If you won't change your mind, nothing I can do or say will prevent you from sailing to-morrow. But one thing you should know: I have passage on the same boat. I, too, am sailing for Europe to-morrow morning!"

"What!" exclaimed Madge in credulously. "What do you mean, What?"

"Just this," Patricia faced her squarely. "When I learned the folly you intended to commit, I engaged passage on the same ship. We are going to Europe together—you and I, and Mr. Cartwright. She smiled a little twisted smile. "No matter what the world says or thinks or surmises, the actual fact remains that you and your friend, Miss Fleming, have gone to France. Mr. Cartwright is on the boat too. Good! But what can actually say that you and he are running away from a duped husband and wife? Will we not be an amiable little party of acquaintances who happen, by chance, to choose the same day and the same boat for our departure for France?"

Madge sank nervously into a chair. She stared at Patricia as if she believed she had taken leave of her senses.

Gradually a little awe crept into her eyes, much as it had into Cartwright's when he realized how much Patricia knew, how determined she was.

"You're crazy," Madge gasped at last. "You can't do it. We're not children to be called to order and followed about by someone who has no authority over us."

Patricia stood over her. Slim and cool and quiet, with her clear, steady eyes, she looked as inexorable as Fate.

"I'll leave you now, Madge. You must rest. But I will see you at the pier at ten o'clock to-morrow morning."

THE REASSURING LETTER

Although Patricia had advised Madge to rest in preparation for the rigors of the following morning, there was no rest for her that night.

She went back to her own hotel in a taxi, closing her eyes with weariness, while it careened through the wet streets.

But once in her room, she went directly to her task—the very difficult task of writing a letter to Paul Bannister that would keep him from suspecting his wife's motives.

In her heart, Patricia honestly believed that Madge's affair with Cartwright was an infatuation, pure and simple, and that it would wear itself out, if given a chance, just as all Madge's impulses since childhood had worn themselves out if not directly thwarted.

But in this instance, unfortunately, it would be too late to retrieve when Madge came to her senses. Her reputation, her life would be wrecked irremediably, if the world learned of what Patricia reasoned that if, by some hoax, some deliberately trumped up story, she could prevent Bannister from knowing the truth, the situation might yet be saved. She believed honestly that her own presence on the boat with Madge and Cartwright would help scandal, in the course, and raised eyebrows in the circle which knew of their affair. But the world at large could actually prove nothing.

The only flaw in her reasoning—one which never occurred to her—strangely enough—was Cartwright's attitude toward his wife, what he had told her, what he intended to tell her.

Patricia slipped out of her frock, took a quick, refreshing tub, to stimulate her flagging faculties, and putting on a negligee, sought out her writing case from the bags that her maid had packed so hastily that afternoon.

Then she sat down at her desk and began her letter to Paul Bannister. It was characteristic of her that in pursuing the course she had outlined for the future, she gave no thought to herself.

All her life she had helped others. People in trouble came to her unhesitatingly and they never went away empty handed or despairing. Because she was alone in the world, without family or ties of any sort, independent of will, she was able to do the thing she was now about to do.

That she had no desire to go to Europe at this time, that she was deliberately letting herself in for resentment, even insult, from the two people to whom she was a self-appointed traveling companion, did not deter her from her purpose.

There was not only Madge's future to think of, but Bannister's. His faith in Madge, his own happiness, must be preserved if possible, she told herself.

Very deliberately, she shut from her consciousness her heart's reminder that Bannister was the man she loved and that she was sacrificing herself for his happiness, as well as Madge's.

"Dear Paul," she wrote, after as much thought and hesitation as Madge had shown the night she wrote her farewell letter which she afterward destroyed—the one that had given Patricia the clue to her mad adventure.

"The news I have to tell you will undoubtedly startle you, but you have always been kind enough to trust my judgment, and I am confident that you will do so now."

"I am taking Madge abroad with me in the morning."

"We came to New York together, although you didn't know it," Patricia winced over the lie, but wrote some time ago, I told you that she was nervous and restless and unstrung? Too much society, perhaps, a hot summer in town. Well, any way, she needs a change and it is my personal belief that she should not be made to wait until you are ready to go to Vienna the latter part of the Summer. This is an important thing to tell a doctor, isn't it? But she would never come to you with her troubles, I'm sure. She wouldn't want to worry you and you've been too busy perhaps, to take note of her condition."

"Anyway, I've formed a plan which I hope you will understand and resent. I have in France, a charming friend whom I met while I was doing war work in Paris. She is a French marquise, Madame de Marzel, widowed early in the war and very much reduced in circumstances. But she still has an exquisite little villa by the sea, not far from Cannes, and I have long been promising to visit her."

"It occurred to me that a very fortuitous arrangement for her and Madge and myself, might be a little visit there for a few weeks. You are coming to Europe soon and you could stop there and pick Madge up and take her with you to Vienna. I am confident that after a few weeks in France with this charming friend of mine for a daily companion and a different environment—not say but distinctly interesting—you will find a new Madge on your arrival. I am enclosing Madame de Marzel's address."

"Of course Madge is disappointed to miss her birthday with you," Patricia winced again at her deliberate perversion, "but you two can have a belated celebration after you arrive in France."

The pen dropped from Patricia's fingers and she slipped reverently to her knees.

"Ah, make it so!" she prayed.

Of Night Life Fame, Moquin's Closes Down

New York, Sept. 8.—Another famous institution of the town's night life is about to pass. Moquin's, on Sixth Avenue, is posted for lease. It was padlocked last March. After that two waiters, who had been employed there for more than twenty years, committed suicide.

The place was once owned by Jacquelin, who in the past generation was famous because he drove to the races in a coach-and-four and wore a high white silk hat as he sat on the high seat. He died while washing dishes in the cafe he once owned.

Sentences Follow Hijacking Murder

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Stanley Gleason, who accompanied William Rhineheart on a "hijacking" expedition the night he shot and killed Police Sgt. M. J. Brady a year ago, was given an indeterminate sentence of one year to life imprisonment in San Quentin prison yesterday by Superior Judge Roche. Gleason was sentenced on a charge of conspiracy to rob, to which he had pleaded guilty.

Rhineheart was taken to Folsom prison yesterday. He was convicted on charges of murder and of conspiracy to rob, but has an appeal pending on the murder charge.

THERE ARE MORE HOMES IN THE CITY TO-DAY THAN YESTERDAY

New homes are created every day. People move into the city—our young folks get married—and the list of city's homes grows.

Do you have property to sell to people who are looking for a home? Or do you have rooms, apartments or houses to rent to people who are not yet ready to buy homes of their own?

To all home-hunters the classified ads bring information. They look to these ads for offerings—they investigate these offerings that appeal to them—and, when reasonably satisfied, they buy or rent as a direct result of the interest in classified advertising.

ODD FELLOWS HELD SUCCESSFUL RALLY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Thousand Members Choose Tacoma For 1926 Rally
Great Success Marks Entertainment and Dance at Willows

Over one thousand Odd Fellows attended the sixth annual rally of the International Encampment Branch of the order at the Willows on Saturday evening, and selected Tacoma as the scene of the 1926 rally, to be held on the Saturday preceding Labor Day. The gatherings are designed to foster international amity, and have proved extremely successful.

Proceedings of the rally commenced at 6.45 o'clock with the initiation of a large class into the Encampment Branch, the degree team of the Port Angeles Encampment officiating, while witnessing delegates were in attendance from all parts of British Columbia and Washington State.

The feature entertainment of the rally was a grand public dance in the main building at the Willows fair grounds, which commenced at 9 o'clock and continued until midnight. Ozard's orchestra of fifteen instruments providing the music.

The hundreds of couples found the floor in fine condition, but dancing found strong rivalry for interest in the well managed casino games.

On Sunday the Knights Militant of the Odd Fellows Order held a church parade to the City Temple, where Rev. Dr. Clem Davies delivered an inspiring address, his subject being "International Brotherhood."

STATEMENT ISSUED BY ARTHUR MEIGHEN

Federal Conservative Leader Said Country Pleased to Know Election Coming

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Federal Conservative leader, issued a statement here Sunday night, having read the speech delivered by Premier King at Richmond Hill, Ontario, Saturday afternoon.

"The country will hear with a sense of relief that the Government has at last surrendered to the public demand for a general election," said Mr. Meighen. "The intimation given by Premier King two weeks ago that there were 'no imperative national considerations necessitating an appeal' and that the Government would wait until there were such 'considerations,' has been revoked, and rightly so."

"There was no need of elaborating a lot of so-called reasons. The public were aware of good enough reasons already. Those which Mr. King gives are more amusing than impressive. Briefly, they are as follows:

"1. That the country is very prosperous and soon to be more prosperous still.
"2. That the country is being destroyed by Mr. Meighen's speeches.
"3. That the Government has enjoyed abundant support and large majorities during this Parliament."

"That because the Government has not a majority in this Parliament, it is compelled to 'stand pat' and cannot solve the problems of the nation."

"These contentions destroy themselves."

"Transportation, immigration, the tariff and the Senate are problems already solved. He seeks to excuse four years of futility on the plea that he had not an adequate majority."

"What Mr. King lacked as to each and every one of these subjects was not a majority, but a policy. If he had a policy as to any one of these subjects, he would have it better than mere words and platitudes, the time has come to explain wherein he differs from the Progressives. For years he proclaimed the principles of the two parties as identical. With the Progressives he had three-quarters of the House."

"The fact is, that during its whole term of office, Mr. King's Government has not brought forward a respectable proposal on any one of these four questions. As to ocean transportation, and again as to ocean transportation, it introduced legislation which was not even sane. In both cases the failure was grotesque."

"There are few in Canada who have any real hope that more can be expected from the pale residue which now remains of the Mackenzie."

THREE DEATHS IN FIGHT ON HIGHWAY

Recluse Near Santa Cruz, California, Objected to Construction of Road

He Shot Sheriff and Deputy and Sheriff Shot Him

Santa Cruz, Calif., Sept. 8.—Sheriff H. V. Trafton, shot Saturday by Paul H. Woodside, Aptos Beach recluse, died Saturday night in a hospital here.

His death was the third of a tragedy occasioned by attempts of Trafton and Under-Sheriff R. H. Rountree to arrest Woodside, charged with holding up highway construction.

Rountree died almost immediately after being shot by Woodside, and Woodside's death took place after he had been shot by the sheriff, who, fatally wounded, disarmed the recluse and turned the gun on him.

HALL AT SHAWNIGAN IN GREAT DEMAND

Report Presented at Annual Meeting of Shareholders

Special to The Times

Shawnigan Lake, Sept. 8.—The annual shareholders' meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association was held in the hall on Saturday evening. Prior to the general meeting the directors met and passed on their actions, S. J. Heald, chairman of the board, occupied the chair and gave an account of the year's activities. The hall takes the place in the social life of the Lake in the same manner as community halls in other districts, the cost of maintenance being met by reasonable charges. The number of meetings held in the hall during the past year compares favorably with former years and the revenue derived has enabled the directors to effect various improvements to the buildings, pay its way and show a small balance to the credit.

During the year the hall provided facilities for basketball, badminton, social club meetings, dancing, concerts and theatricals. The Women's Institute, Farmers' Institute, Sunday school and church services have been accommodated, and the hall is available for private parties. The large bathhouse and float provide accommodation for water sports, and non-residents may store their boats. The public library occupies spacious premises in the basement. Mr. E. M. Walbank is secretary and has charge of the property, the directors lending their assistance on all public occasions.

The auditors' report showed everything in perfect order. There are nine directors, three of whom retire each year. The following gentlemen retired this year: Mr. E. W. Blake, Mr. P. Austin and Mr. H. E. Hawking. Those elected to fill the vacancies were: H. E. Hawking (re-elected), Mr. G. G. Orr and Mr. W. J. Smith. The meeting passed a vote of thanks to the retiring directors, the chairman of the board, S. J. Heald, and to Mr. E. M. Walbank, secretary-treasurer.

At the close of the general meeting the directors met and re-elected S. J. Heald as chairman of the board, Mr. F. T. Elford vice-chairman and Mr. E. M. Walbank secretary-treasurer.

Mr. J. L. Grimason of Victoria was elected auditor. The directors who occupy the premises in the basement are: Col. J. S. Searley Wilmet, F. T. Elford, S. J. Heald, G. G. Orr, W. J. Smith, A. Islay Dyson, H. E. Hawking, S. Finlay and W. R. Elford.

SHAWNIGAN LIBRARY MUCH APPRECIATED

Women's Institute Passes Vote of Thanks to Directors

Special to The Times

Shawnigan Lake, Sept. 8.—The regular monthly meeting of the Shawnigan Women's Institute was held in the S. L. A. Hall on Thursday afternoon. There was a very good attendance. The business of the day was general business. The local neighborhood needs committee reported excellent voluntary work done during the Summer on the bathing beach, which in its improved condition has made it possible for children, residents and visitors to have very enjoyable times together.

The library convenor reported a record number of visitors to the library, also books taken out in August, everyone speaking highly of the able way in which it is run now between thirty and forty children take advantage of the juvenile branch. At the close of the convenor's report the following resolution was passed:

"We, the members of the Shawnigan W.I. wish to express to the directors and the officials of the Shawnigan Lake public library our appreciation of the able way in which the library is run to the great benefit of the community, and our thanks to them for the work accomplished."

The gratifying returns from the annual jumble sale enabled the institute to send $100 towards the Solarium fund and an additional $5 subsidy for the enjoyable social gathering given by Mrs. Barry at her home on August 27.

Mrs. A. E. Wheelton was unanimously appointed as official delegate to the District Conference in October. Attention was drawn to the dangerous piece of road at the foot of Church Hill accounting for a recent fatal motor accident there.

The recent rains has greatly improved the condition of the community tennis court enabling members to use it with comfort.

The tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. A. E. Wheelton.

Alberni News

Special to The Times

Alberni, Sept. 8.—Considerable excitement was caused by an automobile belonging to Robert Linser catching fire while getting gas at the Alberni Motors Garage at 7.45 on Saturday night. The fire brigade, assisted by a number of others, soon succeeded in putting the blaze out, but not before the top, cushions and upholstery had been burned off. Otherwise the car appears to be little the worse.

Miss L. A. Maroon returned last week from a two-month holiday trip to the East, where she visited all the principal cities of Ontario, renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. A. W. Neill, M.P., and L. A. Hanna returned on Saturday from a visit to the East Coast of the Island.

Mr. Alexis Martin of Victoria, who has been spending the last two weeks at Mrs. Wark's, left for home by train yesterday.

Mrs. B. Tye of Sproat Lake, was a passenger on yesterday's train for Victoria.
